"LOVER" TO TESTIFY FOR CLAIRE WINDSOR

Broker To Tell His Side of Suit Brought by Wife.

By The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES, Calif Sept 12—Seven years ago today Alfred C Read Jr was secretly married to Marian Young Today the young broker was to take the stand in superior court in defense of Claire Windsor blond actress and allegedly the other woman who disrupted his marital life.

"We expect Read's testimony will completely absolve Miss Windsor of any blame said Leonard Wilson one of Miss Windsor's attorneys in the trial of Mrs Read's $100 000 alienation of affections suit against the actress

Miss Windsor and Mrs Read told their sides of the case in court last week

The Reads now are divorced

Miss Windsor testified Read made love to her on a transcontinental train after he had told her he was unmarried Later she said he confessed he was married but that he was separated and contemplated a divorce and that under this condition she allowed the romance to continue

Mrs Read told the jury she was happily wed until the blond actress entered her husband's life

10 ARMED MEN ROB BANK, KIDNAP CLERK

By The Associated Press

FARRELL, Pa, Sept. 12 — Ten men armed with sawed-off shotguns and revolvers robbed the S ... Gully bank of between $5 000 and $7 000 today, kidnaped Carl Wild, 21, an employe, and fled across the state line to Ohio in two cars. At Youngstown they released Wild, unharmed.

Eight men entered the bank and cowed S J. Gully, the proprietor, and three girl employes, with their weapons. Two companions remained at the wheels of automobiles parked at the curb. One car bore Massachusetts license plates.

REPEAL WINS BY BIG MARGIN IN MAINE VOTE

"Cradle of Prohibition" Joins Parade Against 18th Amendment by 2 to 1 Decision.

EXCEEDS WET FORECASTS

Is No 26 in Repeal Column; Addition of Three States Expected Today.

By The Associated Press

Maine where prohibition was cradled away back before the Civil war has voted to strike the Eighteenth amendment from the national Constitution

Repealists expressed confidence of similar results today in Maryland Colorado and Minnesota where elections on the repeal proposal were being held Prohibition ... digging the ground, kept on fighting

Maine which passed a state prohibition law in 1851 voted yesterday about two to one for the proposed Twenty First amendment which would delete the Eighteenth It was the twenty sixth state to enter the repeal column Thirty six are necessary under the Constitution before an amendment becomes the law of the land

Twenty states have now taken all the steps to ratify repeal Arizona the latest of them filed its formal notification of ratification with the secretary of state at Washington yesterday

At least 39 states will have voted on the repeal proposal by Nov 7 The next states to vote after today are Idaho and New Mexico Both have called elections for next Tuesday

The 26 states which have voted to ratify repeal are Michigan Wisconsin Rhode Island, Wyoming New Jersey New York, Delaware Nevada Illinois Indiana, Massachusetts Connecticut New Hampshire Iowa West Virginia, California Alabama Arkansas Tennessee Oregon, Arizona, Missouri Texas Washington, Vermont and Maine

Maine Majority Larger Than Expected

By The Associated Press

PORTLAND Me, Sept 12—Maine which blazed the trail to prohibition more than three quarters of a century ago had back tracked far enough today to join the 25 other states which have voted to repeal the 18th amendment

By a majority of more than two to one exceeding the estimates even of repealist leaders the Pine Tree state elected apparently an entire constitutional convention of 80 delegates pledged to ratify the 21st amendment repealing federal prohibition The convention will meet Dec 6

Repealists led easily in all of the 16 counties

With 79 scattered precincts most of them small out of the state's 622 unreported the statewide vote stood For repeal, 113 827, against 52 077

The cities did the expected in returning liberal majorities for repeal A surprising feature of the vote however was the wet strength developed in the smaller communities a considerable majority of which voted to reject federal prohibition

No sooner was the outcome certain than the probability of resubmission of state prohibition was raised

Gov Louis J Brann who lent his support to the repeal movement, said that should the 18th amendment be repealed and the issue of state prohibition arise he would handle the matter expeditiously

This was widely interpreted as meaning he would call a special session of the state legislature to act on re submission

Bullet Fired by Wife Hits Man in Foot

Aimed at Auto Tire, She Says After Shooting Near Green Camp.

Mrs Susan Shikofsky 54, of north of Green Camp shot her husband through the left foot with a revolver this morning when he refused to let her accompany him to Marion according to a story they told a deputy from the sheriff's office when he was called to the Shikofsky home

Her husband Fred Shikofsky, 60 is in the City hospital suffering from a revolver wound through the arch of his left foot and his wife is in the county jail pending an investigation to learn if a charge will be filed against her

Mrs Shikofsky said she fired the revolver shot to puncture a tire in her husband's automobile after he allegedly had tried to run over her as she stood in the barnyard of their home She had followed him into the barnyard during an argument over whether she was to accompany him to Marion when he started to come to work at a foundry here the deputy was informed

Mr Shikofsky asserted that his wife was shooting at him not the automobile and that she had threatened him several times previously with the revolver

Neighbors brought Mr Shikofsky to the hospital

Crop Prospects Brighter, Survey by U. S. Shows

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12—Crop prospects improved during August, but even good weather couldn't push the indicated yields anywhere near last year's harvest figures

Wheat and corn today were classed in the unusually low yield category by the agriculture department's Sept. 1, condition forecast. More oats were promised than a month ago, but this grain's condition remained the lowest on record

Tobacco was one of the few crops which apparently would surpass last year's production. But averaging more than a score of crops, excluding cotton, the department said this year's harvest would be nearly seven per cent below last year's and about 10 per cent below 1932, despite a one per cent improvement during ...

RETAIL SALES TAX PROPOSED

Action on Levy for School Financing Indicated As Legislature Ends Recess

COMMITTEE APPOINTED

Will Draw Up Program, Tax of Not Over One Per Cent Proposed.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS O Sept 12 The special session of the legislature ended a two weeks recess today with indications that the joint taxation committee would consider recommending a general retail sales tax for school financing

In fact the committee named a subcommittee to draw up a temporary program and Senator D J Gunsett, Democrat of Van Wert county predicted its proposals would include a sales tax lower however, than the one urged by Governor White and rejected by the recent regular legislature

The subcommittee appointed last night is composed of Gunsett Representative Charles H Jones Republican of Jackson county and house majority leader Keith Lawrence It was instructed to find revenue sources for financing the schools only during the current term

Governor White estimated this would require $8 700 000 allowing $38 annually for each grade pupil and $66 for each high school student That minimum was provided in a bill approved by the committee but means of financing it still must be found

Proposed Levy Cut

The sales tax considered by the regular session called for a two per cent levy The new tax probably would not exceed one per cent

The legislature recessed after authorizing a list of luxury taxes for poor relief It had been hoped the committee could complete the school program but much of its time was taken up in public hearings on diverse proposals

A plan to tax liquors for school purposes if the Eighteenth amendment is repealed received a setback from two sources yesterday

Governor White said he would oppose high liquor taxes because they would encourage bootlegging He expressed doubt that a tax on prescription liquor would provide enough revenue

Opposed by McNaught

Opposition to liquor taxes for school financing also came from S P McNaught superintendent of the Ohio Anti Saloon league who termed such a plan grossly incon sistent

"If the legislature adopts such a program Dr McNaught said the proponents of liquor will always attempt to support their position by pointing out that the more liquor sold and consumed the greater and more efficient will be the public schools

All experience has shown that the more prohibition that exists the greater and more efficient the schools become"

The question of state aid for parochial schools must be ironed out on the floor of the legislature The state's Catholic schools asked that they be included in the public school program but the joint committee decided to consider the two separately

The Catholic representatives saying financial straits might force their schools to close and place the entire burden of their support upon the state, asked for $2 500,000 They offered to match this amount with about $3 000 000 which they said would assure continued operation.

MARION DEMOCRATS HEAR SEN. BOWER

OFFICERS DEFY NEW DEMANDS

Bloodshed Feared as Former Cuban Leaders Barricade Selves in Hotel.

PREPARE FOR SHOWDOWN

Talk of New Revolution Continues; President Selects Cabinet.

By The Associated Press

HAVANA Sept 12 Defiant army officers barricaded and besieged in the sumptuous National hotel resisted the new government's demands today that they come to terms immediately

They scoffed at an ultimatum from President Ramon Grau San Martin that they yield in 24 to 30 hours and made ready for a showdown on their stand that former President De Cespedes administration be reinstated

Backed by the powerful ABC and OCRR secret societies the rebel commanders estimated from 300 to 600 in number were armed and prepared for any contingency continued siege or as some predicted battle

Soldiers who arose against them last Monday and toppled over the De Cespedes regime kept an air tight line about the building

Trouble Seen

Captain Mario Torres Menier former head of the aviation corps was one who saw trouble and possible bloodshed ahead

Cabinet Sworn In

Paying no outward attention to the beleaguered officers President Grau San Martin proceeded with his prepared schedule and shortly before noon the members of his cabinet took the oath of office

A meeting of the ministers was called directly after the ceremony the purpose being to outline the next steps the government will take in its efforts to strengthen its hold Aside from the situation at the National hotel, the city was tranquil. But political leaders believed that the trouble at the National was close to a showdown.

The president issued his ultimatum to Colonel Horacio Ferrer, De Cespedes' secretary of the army and navy, during a conference at the presidential palace.

On his return to the hotel, Colonel Ferrer declared the officers were determined to hold to their stand for the return of De Cespedes and that "it is impossible for these officers to return to their posts now; they can not be expected to take orders from their former sergeants"

Ever since the enlisted men's coup d'etat of last week the army

COUNCIL MAPS FINANCE PLAN

Program Adopted at Public Hearing, Salary Question Not Definite

AMOUNT SOUGHT LOWER

Bond Fund Up Although Poor Relief Request Shows Decline

City council last night adopted a 1934 financial program which members of the finance committee said would provide for full restoration of salaries of all city officials and employes but would necessitate careful and economical administration of the city's affairs next year

Adoption was voted at the conclusion of a public hearing on the budget which ended without protest or question being raised

For 1934 operating expenses council asks for $2 458 174 50 which is $133 875 50 less than last year's budget request It is, however $41 083 80 more than the appropriations for 1933 because the county budget commission granted the city only $227 810 70 of the amount requested last year

Council's request for $258 874 50 to run the city next year does not include any figure to retire approximately $75 000 in outstanding bills inherited from previous years, officials said In making up the 1933 budget a year ago officials included nearly $60 000 to retire a deficit carried over from 1932, they said

Would Restore Salaries

The budget provides for full restoration of the salaries of all elective officials and city employes reduced approximately 20 per cent for the year 1933

Councilman W G Slack chairman of the finance committee estimated that restoration of the salaries of officials and employes amounted to approximately $30 000 He added that if the 1934 budget had been drawn to allow salary reductions equivalent to those taken by officials and employes this year the budget would total approximately the same as the appropriations for 1933 made last January

I don't know whether officials will continue their voluntary reductions in salaries another year, or whether council will continue to hold down the salaries of city employes next year but the finance committee felt it had no right to presume that the reductions would continue in force, Chairman Slack said

A marked difference in poor relief requests for 1934 and 1933, officials said resulted from the fact that the federal government is furnishing practically all poor relief funds for the city at present and undoubtedly will continue to do so during 1934 Where council made a budget request for $100 000 for relief needs in 1933 only $40 000 is sought for 1934 for the same purpose Chairman Slack said

Sinking Fund Higher

The budget includes also a request for $171 143 43 to retire bonds, as compared with $154 704 54 needed for that purpose a year ago

In estimating the receipts from various city departments, council lowered corresponding figures for last year It is estimated that the hospital, garbage collection department and other city departments producing revenue will yield $70 711 next year including $27 000 from the hospital, $21,500 from the garbage collection department and $8,000 from liquor taxes, a new

79th Milestone Passed by Ohio Steel Pioneer

By International News Service

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Sept. 12—James A. Campbell, pioneer empire builder of the steel industry who rose from a $75-a-year clerk to a $250,000-a-year executive, Monday passed his seventy-ninth birthday, probably his last one, doctors say.

Since his retirement as chairman of the board of directors of the Youngstown Sheet & Tube corporation in February, 1932, Campbell has lived in seclusion at his pretentious estate, "Loganbrook," fighting to regain his health.

Attending physicians declare, however, that the aged captain of finance and trade is dying. It may be only a matter of days or weeks, they say.

Campbell's withdrawal from the business world was hastened by overwork during the famous $1,000,000,000 Sheet & Tube-Bethlehem merger trial. He now is confined to his rooms on the second floor of Loganbrook castle and spends his life in a semi-hospital atmosphere.

Hope Not Abandoned

He has an outside chance to recover, some insist. They point out that once before it was said Campbell was going to die but he fooled the doctors.

Campbell is naturally known as "the last of the empire builders" in the Mahoning Valley, and prominent steel men and bankers frequently call him one of the three best known steel executives.

At the time of his retirement, the Sheet & Tube was listed as a $300,000,000 corporation with a blast furnace capacity of 2,950,000 tons of steel annually. It is the largest corporation in Ohio and the second largest steel pipe producer in the world. In normal times 17,000 men are employed in the mills.

The greatest battle in Campbell's career came after he had reached his seventy-fifth birthday, when Judge David Jenkins overruled the proposed merger, Campbell's "brain child."

Cyrus A. Eaton, self-styled foe of Wall Street, who wanted to build up a mid-western steel empire through the merger of the Sheet & Tube with Republic Steel, blocked the combine in a court fight.

When the final decision was rendered, Campbell lost a law suit, and Eaton, it is estimated, lost $13,000,000. Many observers in the financial world trace the decline of the Eaton fortunes from the day he started fighting the Campbell interests.

Native of Ohltown

Campbell was born in Ohltown, a drowsy little village not 10 miles from here. When he was four years of age, local physicians declared that he would die of tuberculosis. His mother nursed him back to health and he had not been ill a day in his life until his recent breakdown.

After finishing public schools and attending Hiram college for one year, Campbell worked as a clerk in a hardware store. Soon afterward he met Theda Pratt and they were married in the Campbell afterward became associated with borrowed the money for wedding expenses and four years later was earning $75 a month.

In 1855, he organized the Youngstown Ice company and shortly afterwards became associated with the Trumbull Iron Co. He was for 36 years of age Col. George D. Wick, one of the valley's most important men, who asked him to become manager of the steel works at Girard. Campbell pleaded he knew nothing about steel. Nine Campbell never was a laborer in a steel mill.

When the Republic Iron & Steel corporation was formed in 1899, he was appointed manager of the Youngstown district. He resigned soon afterwards to form the Youngstown Iron Sheet & Tube company, which later became the Youngstown Sheet & Tube.

The Stars Say

For Wednesday, Sept. 13.

The astral influences bearing rule on the affairs of this day presage much activity and commotion with events generally moving at a rather lively tempo. The mind may be pitched to a high and possibly excitable level, with all the faculties and forces under fine stimulus for "stirring things up," some probably to a degree of perturbance or even rancor. Private affairs may be lively but happy.

Those whose birthday it is may be prepared for a lively and eventful year, with affairs keyed to high tension in many directions. The mind and forces may be inclined to the strenuous and aggressive, and properly directed may incite to much constructive and profitable effort. Private affairs are also interesting.

A child born on this day should be active, energetic, constructive and have a mind usually working under high pressure, although with a tinge of the caustic and bitter. It may be inclined to athletics and sports.

Notable nativity: General John J. Pershing, U. S. army.

TUBERCULOSIS MUST NOT BE NEGLECTED!

TO do so is to invite death and disaster for thousands of helpless men, women and children. For the White Plague is highly infectious and unless sufferers from it are segregated and properly treated, it will mercilessly sow its seeds of destruction.

Now is no time for the fight against tuberculosis to stop. The real fight is just beginning since we have learned what marvelous results can be brought about by proper care and treatment of the tuberculous.

Unless the victims of tuberculosis can get the scientific medical attention they require, the dark clouds of this dreaded disease will again cast their shadow over the land and years of effort will have been wasted.

NOTHING should be permitted to stop the fight against tuberculosis. Every locality should make adequate provision for the care of needy tuberculous patients for the safety and protection of all. Write for free copy of "Blacking Out the White Plague."

"I was cheating myself of loveliness till I learned about Sally Eilers' beauty soap" says Cynthia Wills, of New York

1 "Nobody will ever know how desperately I wanted to have beaux the way my sister did. So often I just sat home alone! Yet I knew my features were good."

2 "Then one night I was in the movies, alone. A close-up of Sally Eilers came on the screen. How lovely she was! It's really her exquisite skin that makes her so enchanting, I realized all of a sudden."

3 "Think how delighted I was to discover in a newspaper the secret of Sally Eilers' lovely skin! She uses Lux Toilet Soap regularly. I learned, and recently scientists who have tested her soap have found out the most amazing things..."

4 "Now I'm using Lux Toilet Soap every day and my skin looks positively radiant."

5 "I've proved what a difference a nice complexion makes! I get compliments on my lovely skin all the time. Parties, telephone calls, dates galore! No more jitters—now that I've found this wonderful complexion care!"

island of the West Indies are derived from a jig-saw melange of domestic troubles further complicated by the possibility of American intervention.

The Cuban picture may be separated in these four major phases:

1. Economic: Largely an agrarian nation, Cuba's financial woes have mounted tremendously since the price of sugar, its chief product, began a dismaying downhill slide in 1920. Further, under the terms of the Chadbourne plan, the sugar crop has been restricted from 33 to 51 per cent. Other economic ills include the national debt, decline of value of investments and the falling off of foreign trade.

2. Governmental: Having few natural resources outside of its agricultural interests, political and military offices are lucrative prizes and much sought-after.

3. Political: Since the Machado machine crashed, there has sprung up no single dominating political party. The population is divided into more than a dozen parties, and even some of these are splitting into right and left wing factions.

4. American Influence: Under the Platt amendment, the United States has the right of intervention to assure a government "adequate for the protection of life, property and individual liberty."

Too, the United States is looked to for protection by its 5,000 citizens in Cuba, as well as to safeguard approximately $1,000,000,000 which American business interests have invested in industries and property on the island.

Junta's Three Objectives.

The radical and militaristic junta which seized control after the resignation of the de Cespedes cabinet has three main objectives if it can organize a stable administration.

It demands a completely revolutionary regime, one that will seek immediately "economic reconstruction of the political organization of the nation." Lastly, they insist on purging Cuba of every vestige of Machado influence.

CUBA'S NEW PRESIDENT AT DESK AND RECEIVING PLAUDITS OF CROWDS

Mr. and Mrs. Robert V. Pearson of Mt. Gilead believe they have one of the original copies of the first issue of the New York Sun, which celberated its centennail Sept. 2.

The aged issue is letter-perfect and the crumbled and faded paper on which it is printed indicates it easily might be 100 years old.

It came into their possession from the estate of the late George Foye, who formerly lived two and one-half miles southeast of Mt. Gilead. Mrs. Pearson is a daughter of the late Mr. Foye.

Among news items listed in the first issue of the Sun is mention of the Ohio penitentiary in which 30 convicts, believed to have been made restless by an outbreak of cholera in the prison, attempted to battle their way to freedom.

Mr. Pearson also is owner of an old print of The Bible. The book was printed in 1793 and was purchased in 1799 by Samuel Russell, great-great-great-grandfather of Mr. Pearson, in Charleston, S. C. In it was found the marriage certificate of Mr. Russell and his wife. The certificate is written in longhand and signed by more than a score of friends and relatives of the couple. The certificate shows that the bridegroom obtained the consent of all close relatives of the bride before the ceremony took place.

HIT HIGH-PRESSURE MAIL ORDER TRADE

By International News Service

VANCOUVER, B. C. — Zealous tradesmen in Montreal and Toronto who pick their customers at random from city directories and mail them silk hosiery and neck ties are going to run into trouble if provincial postmasters have anything to say about the matter.

At their convention here recently, the postmasters decided to ask postal authorities of the dominion to investigate the high-pressure mail order business. Their carriers are being run bowlegged tracing down these orders when the articles fail to connect with merchants or individuals. They insist a 10-cent inquiry charge should be made for tracing.

A TEA at the home of Mrs. C. E. Turley of 259 East Center street yesterday afternoon complimented Mrs. Roxie Mae Smith, a member of the East Side Mother-Singers club, who has been present at all the meetings since the club organization two years ago. Guests included members of the club, Doris Lewis and Mary Ann LaPierre who took part in the program.

Orchid and silver were the colors used to carry out a decorative note in the diningroom and the same colors were used in the flowers which adorned the tea table. Orchid colored candles in silver holders lighted the table where Mrs. Austin Eccles presided. Favors of corsages were pinned by Mrs. Frank M. Knapp.

The program included a piano solo, "La Bien Aimee," by Mrs. Arthur Daly; two vocal numbers "The Mystery and "A Memory Song," Doris Lewis; piano solo "Whispering Winds" Mrs. Harry T. Williams; reading, "Friendship" Mrs. Frances Bryan; vocal solos "Violet and "Mother's Cookie Jar," Mary Anna LaPierre and a vocal solo "A Friendly Wish" Mrs. Richard Swigart.

Vera Van, New Columbia Radio Star, Is Proud of Marion as Birthplace

Songstress, Born Here 19 Years Ago, Starts Way To Fame in West.

A 19-YEAR-OLD girl who is a decided favorite of thousands of radio fans is a native of Marion and, as she says, "I'm very proud to have been born in Marion."

The girl is Vera Van, contralto singer of popular melodies over the Columbia Broadcasting system, who is heard in several programs weekly over a coast-to-coast network.

In a letter today to The Star in answer to a request, Miss Van sketches her Marion associations and, in a becomingly modest manner, gives a brief history of her career on the stage, in motion pictures and over the air.

She was christened Vera Geraldine Webster, Miss Van writes. Her father, Carl Webster, operated a cafe here for some time. When Miss Van was four weeks old, the fmally moved to Akron and in 1921 went to Los Angeles, Calif.

• • •

IT was after her arrival on the Pacific coast that Miss Van made her most rapid strides in the movies and on the air waves. "I have made many appearances in pictures," she writes. "My first real bit was as a page in the Douglas Fairbanks picture 'Robin Hood'." She entered vaudeville when only seven years old and has been on the stage since then.

Miss Van was one of the first children to broadcast on the Pacific coast, getting her start in 1922. Since then, she has "come out of the west," as radio publicity men put it, and set New York City agog with her voice, which these same publicity writers term as "smooth as velvet."

Only recently Miss Van has been accorded a distinct honor, that of being made the featured artist in a Columbia program each Thursday at 8 p. m., with Mark Warnow and his orchestra and the Melodeers quartet.

Other network spots on which Miss Van appears include a broadcast each Sunday at 4:15 p. m., Wednesday and Fridays at 10:15 p. m.

Even in California, Miss Van was not unmindful of her connections with Marion, for she was given the honor of singing at a memorial tendered to the memory of our dead President, Warren G. Harding, given at the First Methodist church in Los Angeles. I was very young then, but I can never forget how proud I felt."

• • •

FIVE years ago, Miss Van was stricken with spinal trouble which ended her dancing work and threatened her stage career. A lucky break in disguise, this illness caused Miss Van to take up singing. Soon her friends were raving over her voice—and here she is, a star.

Miss Van and her mother make their residence in a Manhattan hotel. Some interesting sidelights on the young lady, as submitted by Columbia publicity writers, follow:

Her first big ambition was to be a nurse...Likes horseback riding, canoeing and hiking...collects all sorts of silver money—old and foreign pieces...also gathers toy dogs and curious vases...her favorite song is "Night and Day"...her pet fan letter was from a young man who said: "You sing so beautifully that you are probably as ugly as sin and at least forty."

Presenting Miss Vera Van, above, Marion's contribution to radio entertainment. Now 19, Miss Van was born in Marion and was christened Vera Geraldine Webster.

Marion Federation To Send Delegates To District Meet

THE call to the Central district conference of the Ohio Federation of Women's club Sept. 28-29 in Mt. Vernon has been received by Mrs. Grover C. Snyder, president of the Marion County federation.

The meeting will be held in advance of the opening of the Marion federated club season, and will necessitate called meetings for the election of delegates, Mrs. Snyder said this morning.

Mrs. Carl W. Sawyer, state vice president, and Mrs. Snyder who is district chairman of Americanization, will represent Marion club women on the program. Both will give talks, Mrs. Snyder outlining plans of her committee for the coming year.

Miss Elizabeth Haymaker of Ravenna, state president, will be on the program both days. Mrs. Earl Padgett of Galion, state treasurer, will conduct an institute at the Thursday morning session, and Miss Elizabeth Dyer of Cincinnati, chairman of adult education, will be the speaker Thursday night. Miss Dyer has been broadcasting regularly on WLW programs.

Following the Thursday afternoon program the Mt. Vernon women will entertain with a reception and tea on the grounds of the state sanitorium. The Thursday evening banquet will honor the junior clubs and the junior members will be in charge of the program.

Federation and club presidents will be given two minutes for roll call responses and accounts of the outstanding work of their clubs last year, at the Friday morning breakfast. They will be expected to have written reports ready for the conference secretary, Mrs. Walter C. Blind of West Lafayette. Mrs. Snyder's talk will be given at the mornnig session.

The hostess clubs have asked that reservations for the luncheon, banquet and breakfast be made to Mrs. Samuel Hantman of 100 E. Ohio Avenue, Mt. Vernon, by Sept. 25. Nine-thirty o'clock Thursday morning has been set as the registration hour. The registration fee has been reduced to a minimum this year.

Mrs. Carrol Conard of Mt. Vernon, former district president, is chairman of the conference. Mrs. J. Harry McGregor of West Lafayette is the district president this year.

Homemaker's Question Box

Question—What other points besides selecting serviceable materials should I keep in mind in assembling my daughter's school wardrobe?

Answer—Clothes for school girls are always a problem. Every mother with a daughter of from kindergarten to high school age should be as interested in cultivating good taste in clothes in her daughter as good manners and correct speech. Good taste in clothes is not developed through wearing ill-chosen colors, designs and textures or bad combinations of line, color and fabric. It comes from principles established through association and practice. Children's clothes rightly designed express a feeling of simplicity and appropriateness. Girls' dresses today are designed to meet their own particular needs. Their school dresses, camping clothes, gym suits, first party dresses and graduation dresses must be appropriate for the occasion from the standpoint of both materials and construction.

Since cleanliness is the first requisite of attractive children, washable materials are used mostly for school dresses.

(Answered by Clothing Specialist of the Ohio Agricultural Extension Service).

SHRINE INVITED TO ATTEND SCHOOL

Fall and Winter Activities Opened by Local Group.

An invitation was accepted for past and presiding officers to attend the school of instruction of the Oriental Shrine of Toledo, Sept. 30, at the meeting of Marion Shrine No. 15, White Shrine of Jerusalem last night in the Masonic temple. The school will be conducted by Genevieve Steineck of LaGrange, Ill., supreme worthy high priestess.

Last night's meeting marked the opening of the fall and winter activities of the shrine. One petition was received. Plans were made for a covered dish dinner for members and their families at the next meeting Sept. 25.

A meeting of the Shrine Sewing circle will be held Wednesday with Mrs. Katherine Davies of Leader street. Members of the patrol will hold a session Thursday night at the temple.

Church Women Lay Plans for Fall Festival

THE women of the First Presbyterian church missionary society have begun preparations for the fall festival which they sponsor annually. Plans were outlined at a recent meeting, and the committees named. Mrs. J. W. Hungate and Mrs. Louis Uhl have been named general chairmen of arrangements.

This years festival will be held Friday and Saturday, Sept. 29-30 at the church. Friday evening a quilt display will be made. A "sample" party, the nature of which will be kept secret, and musical entertainment will be features of the Friday evening program.

The customary displays of fruits, vegetables, home baking, candy and needlework which will be for sale, will be made. A light lunch will be served Saturday noon and a dinner will be served in the evening.

Mrs. C. H. Lindsay will be in charge of the needlework table. The other displays will be in charge of the following: fruits and vegetables, Mrs. S. L. Surface, Mrs. Marshall McKinstry, Mrs. G. F. Beebie, Mrs. D. J. Shelton; candy, Mrs. J. B. Bray, Mrs. Ernst C. Carl, Miss Amy Turner; home baking, Mrs. George A. Bowman, Mrs. J. R. Folsum, Mrs. S. R. Vermillion; Saturday dinner, Mrs. R. A. Garvin; quilt display, Mrs. Carl Warrous.

DELEGATES NAMED TO STATE MEET

Mrs. W. O. Nippert, Mrs. J. S. Bonner, Mrs. L. L. Lamborn and Mrs. J. W. McMurray were elected delegates, and Mrs W. F. Pasters, Mrs. Ray Williams, Mrs. Carrie Kavanaugh and Mrs. Roy Pritchard alternates to the state King's Daughters convention in Marysville Oct. 3-4-5, at a meeting of the Inasmuch circle Thursday night with Miss Alice Sneckenberger of North State street. Officers for the ensuing year were installed. The next meeting will be held Sept. 21.

WEDDINGS

Couple Will Live at Findlay

Mr. and Mrs. Ira W. Rider of Caledonia today announced the marriage of their daughter Miss Lela Rider, to Melville Gilliland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Osborn Gilliland of near Forest. The ceremony was solemnized Aug. 24 this year at Covington, Ky., with Rev. Frederick P. Ross, pastor of the M. E. church, reading the ring service. The bride's dress was of blue silk crepe with harmonizing accessories to harmonize. Following a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Gilliland are at home in Findlay where the bridegroom is employed as an automobile mechanic.

REPORT IS GIVEN ON NATIONAL MEET

Memorial Fund for Fellowships Established at Session

A report of the national convention held at Quebec, Canada, last month was given by Mrs. Marguerite Ramroth, regent, at the first meeting of the fall and winter season for members of Our Lady of Victory Circle No. 388, Daughters of Isabella, last night. The meeting was held in the assembly hall of the parochial school.

The sum of $100,000 to establish a memorial foundation fund in the National Catholic school of social service at Washington was set up at the national meeting. The foundation will provide a permanent fellowship in the social service school open to any Daughter of Isabella qualifying for entrance. A bronze tablet commemorating Queen Isabella will be placed in a prominent place in the school.

Routine business was transacted and plans made for a picnic Sept. 25 at the home of Mrs. Herman Kalkbrenner of south of Marion.

The HIDDEN DOOR

BY FRANK L. PACKARD

...t 1933, Frank L. Packard.

...ED

Colin heard a door close at the rear. That was Barney, of course, leaving on his errand to Spinelli.

Buck O'Mara swung on his heel. "I'll get that telephone call through," he said, and left the room.

Colin heard him go into the tobacco shop—obviously to the telephone booth there.

"Some day, sonny," prophesied Mrs. Barney acidly, "a bandage ain't going to do you any good."

"You said it, mother!" Colin returned with a thin smile.

Mrs. Barney gathered up the basin and discarded bandage, and went out—but came back in a moment or two with a quilt.

"Here!" she said ungraciously—and departed again.

* * *

BUCK O'MARA returned from the telephone booth.

"How you feeling?" he jerked out.

Colin raised himself on his good elbow.

"Fine!" he declared. "It's like you said, Buck. A bit of sleep and keeping quiet for a few hours is all I need."

"Go to it, then! Good-night, Clarkie."

"Good-night, Buck—and thanks again." Colin responded fervently.

Buck O'Mara switched off the light and went out, leaving the door open.

Colin listened. He could hear the other going up the stairs, then the closing of Buck O'Mara's door in the hall above. O'Mara would not leave there until Barney came back and reported that it was safe for him. Colin knew a move until then.

And then what? What would come? He did not know. He was satisfied in his own mind that Buck O'Mara would [illegible] or other communistic [illegible] Mask tonight indeed [illegible] was vital had [illegible] a move or O'Mara [illegible] but a practical certainty.

Daily Guide to Health

BY DR. ROYAL S. COPELAND.

A Dangerous Condition.

We hear a great deal about nervous exhaustion and excessive fatigue. Yet few persons appreciate what a serious inroad on the health of the body this condition creates. I venture to say that every one at some time or other has suffered from "nerve exhaustion." But it is the prolonged or continued state that is serious and becomes the cause of severe constitutional and nervous disorders.

Some persons are more liable to nervous disorders than others. Undoubtedly you are familiar with the person who has endless energy and rarely seems fatigued. Another person rapidly succumbs to any nervous or emotional strain. Suffice it to say that the nervous reactions of one individual differ markedly from those of another.

The mechanism of our bodies is similar in that all of us require food drink and rest. It is true that one person may need more of these essentials than another. But a certain amount of rest and nourishment are necessary for all.

The human body can survive without food for a long period of time, but prolonged lack of rest is fatal. Nerve fatigue can often be overcome by short periods of rest in addition to regular sleep. Unfortunately complete nervous exhaustion often requires an extensive rest period and continued medical supervision.

It may surprise you to learn that lack of rest or insufficient hours of sleep and relaxation may lead to serious constitutional disorders. Indigestion, diarrhea, colitis, constipation and insomnia are complications that can be traced to prolonged nerve fatigue. The sufferer is in a lowered state of health. He worries, is apprehensive and is unable to carry on with his daily work.

Too many men and women suffer from nervous exhaustion and associated nervous disorders, yet fail to consult with a physician. If you are always tired, sleep poorly, complain of headache and other chronic ailments, I would advise that you see your doctor.

Often the cure is brought about by regulations of hours of work and increase in the number of hours of rest. At times it is essential to change one's occupation and surroundings. This can only be determined after a complete physical examination has been made and an inventory taken of your health.

Much is accomplished by taking the right diet. Well chosen foods help to supply the elements essential to building up the body, nerves and blood.

Don't laugh at your friend who has the symptoms I have described. They are very real indeed and demand proper treatment.

REGISTRATION SLIPS MUST BE CARRIED

Marion and other Ohio motorists are warned against touring in Pennsylvania without certificates of registration, in a bulletin today from Charles C. Janes of Columbus, secretary of the Ohio State Automobile association.

The bulletin states that an association member was arrested in Pennsylvania recently because he did not have with him his certificate of registration. The state has a law requiring all motorists to carry certificates, thereby aiding in apprehension of stolen cars, according to the bulletin.

The Woman Pays—Alimony

The chief effort of life nowadays is trying not to look down on the Joneses when they rattle past in that old car which you envied them so much in 1929.

* * *

There are many times when the wife of a rich man feels that she would cheerfully exchange him for a nice generous-hearted extravagant racketeer.

* * *

Now that two Chicago women have been ordered to pay alimony to their husbands, the only masculine prerogative that women have not imagined a use for is the luxury of being bald headed.

* * *

A girl used to feel that her life struggles were over when she landed her first husband but now she don't feel actually settled until she has divorced her last husband.

* * *

Nothing makes a man so happy as a woman so unladylike as to be mixed mad and sensible.

A preview of the new fall hats almost convinces one that women are determined to kill love, if it takes the ingenuity of all the eccentrics in Paris.

* * *

All those old jokes about martyred husbands waiting for a woman to finish dressing are deader than technocracy. Any up-to-the-minute woman can get into her clothes in five minutes—which leaves her nearly an hour to put on her complexion while her husband is fastening his evening tie and trying to find his dancing pumps.

* * *

To watch some men concentrating on a jig-saw puzzle you just know that they are using up all the mental powers the Lord gave them, in one supreme effort!

* * *

Almost time for the girl, who has been going about clad chiefly in suntan and an air of studied unconsciousness to put on something a little warmer.—Copyright 1933, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Given in Marriage

Madge Confides to Her Father Her Fear That Lee Chow Is Plotting Against Her.

AS I repeated Lee Chow's threat—for no matter what the Chinese had said in evasion later, I could not construe it as anything else, my father sprang to his feet with an agitation so rare in him that I knew he was most seriously disturbed.

"He dared!" he exclaimed. "He actually dared to threaten you! Oh! The man must be out of his mind. There can be no other explanation."

"I don't know," I said slowly, for Lee Chow's manner had seemed to me cold and lucid.

"But I do know," my father said. "I have known Lee Chow for a very long while, and I have thought him utterly incapable of such a plot as this he is concocting."

I had it upon my lips to say, "What plot?" but caught the words back just in time. If Lee Chow were concocting any plot, and my father knew of it, his information could have come from only one source—Hugh Grantland. There was no use in questioning him, even if I had cared to humiliate myself by doing so. I took refuge in a banal question.

"Do you know whether there is any insanity in his family?" I asked.

"I know nothing as to that," my father answered, "but I do not think that has anything to do with it. Always before this I have looked upon him as one of the sanest, most sapient men I ever have known; but do you remember that time when he opened Marion's strong box?"

A little shiver ran over me at the memory his words evoked. Again I saw Lee Chow standing before Marion's open lock box, and recalled all the macabre preparations for some unnamed horror which he had directed the rest of us to make. Again I saw him handling with infinite caution the long-sealed envelope with its knobby contents, witnessed his convulsive start, and heard his quick directions to the rest of us as the deadly poisoned dart leaped out from the envelope and pierced his finger.

His infinite caution and the meticulous preparations he had insisted on our making had saved his life.

"You know," my father went on, much in the manner of a school teacher imparting a lesson, "that there are many subtle oriental poisons which affect the brain as well as the body, some of them even causing permanent insanity. I think the prompt measures which Lee Chow devised no doubt averted that last possibility. I sincerely trust so, any way. But he may very well be suffering from a temporary cloud upon his intellect which would account for this bizarre interview with you. Do you not think so?"

"Yes, I do," I said, trying to keep a dubious note out of my voice, "but I don't mind telling you that insane or otherwise, I am deathly afraid of him. I feel as though I could not talk to him alone again."

He put up a hand in horrified protest.

"My dear child!" he said. "Do you imagine for one moment that we would permit your being subjected to another ordeal such as this? You will never have to see him alone again."

Again that slurring of the pronoun. Again that conviction, a certainty now, that Hugh Grantland was primarily responsible for thus protecting me against Lee Chow's crazed machinations if crazed they should prove to be.

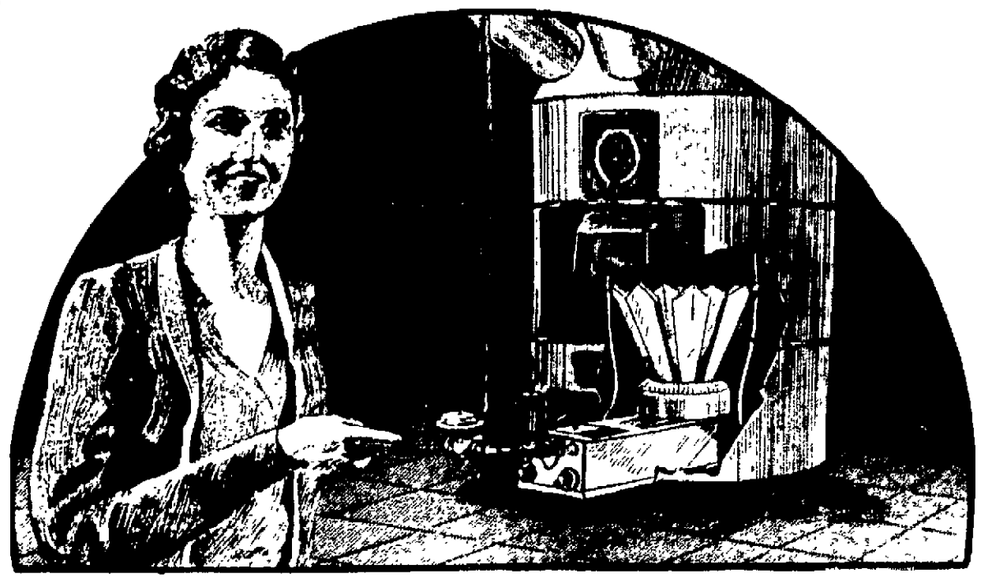
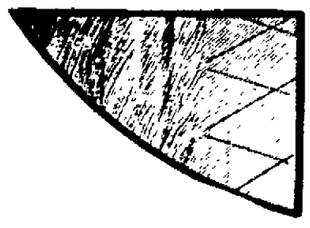
Our Engineers Will Furnish Reliable Information On Your Heating Problems—Without Charge



Enjoy The Advantages Of A Gas Furnace



Your Old-Styled Furnace Can Be Modernized By Installing Janitrol — A Complete Gas-Fired Heating Unit, Automatically Controlled.

No doubt several of your friends heat their homes with gas. You probably have noticed that the draperies, walls and furnishings are fresh looking, because of the absence of smoke and soot. Their homes always are comfortable and they suffer little from colds. They are not running down stairs constantly to tend the furnace and remove ashes — they have gas furnaces. You, too, can enjoy the advantages of gas heat by installing the Janitrol gas-fired heating unit in your present furnace.

Thrifty Homes Heat With Gas

Cleaning costs, redecorating, storing fuel, tending fires, removing ashes, medical expense — all are chargeable to your heating bill if these incidental costs result from the fuel you are using. In heating your home with gas such nuisance expenses are eliminated, and the savings affected will more than pay the small difference in fuel cost.

It is not necessary to make a large outlay of money to equip your furnace for burning gas. The Janitrol gas-fired heating unit is moderately priced and may be paid for on convenient terms. Phone today and let one of our engineers furnish you ALL the facts pertaining to heating with gas — the modern fuel.

The Constitutional Phase.

In the background of virtually all action incidental to the recovery program has stood this question. Is it constitutional? Unnoticed by the hordes, that query has become the foremost thought in many of the country's best minds.

As they ponder over it, they cannot evade the significance of the horde's willingness to let them bear the weight of worry. If they were to ask the next man on the street what he thought about acts clearly not authorized by either the letter or accepted spirit of the Constitution, they would find no fixed opinion. Discussion, in most cases, would disclose a disposition to be more concerned with recovery than with any question of what recovery methods are explicit in the document on which the federal government is founded.

Constitutional lawyers, it is well known, are deeply concerned with such things as a law which gives the federal government's agent in the department of agriculture power to levy taxes on agricultural commodities and to turn over the proceeds of the tax to one class in a community. Some of them declare that such power means the end of the Constitution. Others hope that it will be a power exercised only during the emergency, and believe that the letter and spirit of the document will be recaptured when recovery is accomplished.

This latter form of reasoning obviously is cowardly speciousness. A better form was suggested recently by James M. Beck, constitutional authority. "If our Constitution must now share the fate of all human institutions, then the sooner the American people recognize that the Constitution should truly represent the changed political philosophy of the American people, the better. It is as bad for a nation to lead a double life as for an individual, and our nation is now leading such a life when it is guilty of the hypocritical pretention of adhering to the Constitution as a sacred and binding compact, and simultaneously ignoring in practice its basic theories. Whatever our future form of government may be, let it at least be honest with itself."

Whatever constitutional lawyers may decide, they cannot divert or guide the people's will, which in current times is that there shall be improvement achieved by expedient means. If those means take a form uncongenial to the Constitution and its interpretations, the fact will mean little to a population actively striving to elevate its own standards. The real basis of the document, which is the bill of rights, has not been affected and will not be affected while the people are free. That part of the document which deals with the structure of government and its powers is not a primary concern of human beings whose instinct of survival always leads them eventually to a fair adjustment with the circumstances of living. Those circumstances have changed and are continuing to change vastly. They, and not the words of the Constitution, dictate the rules of social conduct.

The Second Bird.

Scenes of confusion not unlike those of war time are reported to have been staged in Washington the last few days. Whether or not the government is going to intervene in Cuba's affairs, it is taking the business of preparation seriously.

Further details on Secretary Swanson's dramatic departure for Cuba are enlightening. It seems that Mr. Swanson really had no intention of going to Cuba in his capacity as the navy department's head man. He happened to be going to take a trip into the Pacific ocean and it just seemed a good idea to drop in on Havana as he passed by.

Angry Cubans, if they hear about it, have the privilege of being skeptical. It sounds a bit fortuitous that the secretary's Pacific voyage should have fallen due just when American warships were crowding into Cuban waters.

It is possible, too, that some Cubans may have wondered about the appearance of six of the navy's best airplanes flying over their island last week. They may have had no way of knowing that the planes were engaged in setting a new non-stop formation flight distance record. It may have occurred to them to remember that the United States could do a lot of damage in Cuba with the planes.

This, too, was a coincidence—just one of the things that [illegible]. But even [illegible] might be hard [illegible] that the planes were [illegible] on that spectacular flight [illegible] record in mind. [illegible] ment had decided [illegible] at a foreign port and [illegible] mainly in the meantime [illegible] in a position to be [illegible] the visit probably would [illegible].

Killing two birds [illegible] practice, if it can be done [illegible] fuss—and if the second bird [illegible] killed.

Adventure.

Announcement by Rear Admiral [illegible] E. Byrd of plans and a sailing date [illegible] other expedition to the south pole [illegible] ring the wanderings in many [illegible] which can't expect to explore much farther than the distance that can be covered in a week-end. As they did on the occasion of the admiral's previous expedition, [illegible] hearts will go with him and his men on their two year adventure.

Admiral Byrd displays an attractive balance of conception, concerning the project. He is aware of the vast possibilities of investigation in the antarctic. On his former trip he collected data sufficient to fill five volumes, this time he expects to make further and more detailed information. On his return, all that he has discovered will be made available.

But he feels no compunctions about justifying the venture on what some might consider less worthy grounds. It is adventure that attracts him, and it undoubtedly is adventure which attracts most of the 70 men who will sail with him Sept. 25, to be gone from their homes for two years. A winter on antarctic ice is an experience few men ever can have. It is an experience that only a few men want.

Fortunately, modes of communication which can penetrate even the great silences of the earth's ice caps make it possible and practical for the Byrd expedition to be in contact with the land they have left. It is recalled that stories of numerous interesting happenings while the other expedition was away were almost daily bright spots in newspaper fare. They will be duplicated this time.

A remarkable record of safety prevents the possibility of accident from being considered too intently as a new expedition prepares to set sail. Hazards are numerous, but there has been one successful demonstration that they can be surmounted by foresight and courage. Adventure always is dangerous, but the greatest adventures are those which occur in the midst of danger without yielding to it.

Heckling.

It is impossible to avoid knowing that Japanese speakers and writers are heckling the United States. Knowing it, Americans find it difficult to dismiss it from their minds without poisoning their outlook with resentment.

No secret is made of the fact that Japan does not look upon war with the United States as an impossibility. There seems to have been rather placid acceptance of the fact that this country presents the sole obstacle to realization of Japanese ambitions and that sooner or later there will be a clash, unless Americans mend their ways.

The method of mending would entail support of Japanese viewpoints and immediate termination of certain American policies. One gathers from dispatches that the most effective gesture of friendship the United States could make would be cancellation of ship building for the navy. In Japan much is made of the fact that this government is running a naval race. Japanese are informed that the current building program is directed against them.

The fact that the United States is doing nothing it is not permitted to do under a treaty which bears Japan's signature is not pertinent, Japanese critics say. They argue that when the United States gained permission to build ships, it obtained what it wanted. Actual construction of the ships is something else; an overtly hostile act. This is a fair sample of a type of reasoning which, apparently, has become common among Japanese whose opinions are expressed for domestic consumption.

It is, naturally, irritating to Americans to realize that their government is viewed as an enemy by unofficial opinion in another country. They resent the charge that there is anything sinister or menacing in their attitude. Because it is impossible for them to see the actions of their government in Washington as others see it, they instinctively charge bad faith against people who do not see it free from blame and entirely noble in its purposes.

BLENNERHASSET TRIAL.

In addition to the testimony of a man named Allbright, of Lancaster, Ohio, which was given at the trial of Aaron Burr, there was also that of Dudley W. [illegible] of Marietta, considered more important because he was a "side partner" of Blennerhassett, being part owner with him of the island on which Blennerhassett's home was. He was intimate with him and knew [illegible] stances.

Woodbridge testified he [illegible] on the island before the party [illegible] that he did not see any kind of arms [illegible] two pistols that lay on the bureau in the room in which he slept. He [illegible] by the party were built on the Muskingum river, by order of Burr, and [illegible] also ordered the provisioning of them.

Woodbridge also testified to Blennerhassett's financial standing, saying he had bought his unimproved half of the island for $5,000. He had inherited 20,000 English pounds and converted it to American money, and stock earning 8 per cent. Blennerhassett then had a home worth $60,000, seven negroes, $17,000 cash and $5,000 in the hands of his agents at Philadelphia, Woodbridge testified.

It is always interesting to watch Patterson at teas or dinner parties. No one I ever saw—outside of James M. Barrie—gives forth such a sense of impermanence. After he joins a group, he seems to disappear suddenly, as though dropped through a pavement grating. He listens gravely but rarely talks and all of a sudden is gone.

Howard Acton and I wandered recently we would spend a night in a cheap Bowery lodging house. Each ran out of excuses and so the other evening, donning rather unpresentable clothes, subwayed to Brooklyn Bridge and walked northward to find an upstairs hotel that might be interesting. One more brilliantly lit than the others struck our mutual fancy. We registered as "G. K. Chesterton" and "Daniel McGraw," paid our 40 cents each and were given keys on a wooden block. It may have been imagination, but outside of a tiger's amber eyes I have never seen such contempt for mankind as the clerk expressed. He was the sort who wore a horse shoe nail ring. We sat in the office chairs awhile, looking down on the Bowery's muggy flow. Finally I said, "I'm ready." Acton said "I, too," and taking a taxicab we scooted home.

Washington And Wall Street

BY GEORGE DURNO.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—Secretary of the Navy Claude Augustus Swanson barged magnificently out of the White House the other day and [illegible] with an important flourish he was "enroute to Havana" and embarrassed the administration for a little.

The afternoon papers of that day gave Swanson's announcement eight-column headlines, and why not? Cuba's latest revolution had just popped and the vanguard of our battle fleet had received orders to proceed there under forced draft. It looked as if the cabinet officer was being rushed down to take personal charge of intervention.

Soon after the papers appeared a hurry call was sent for the newspaper reporters. In fact, the call came from two quarters.

Two different high sources explained what has since been printed—that Swanson had planned for some months to visit the west coast aboard the cruiser Indianapolis and might just incidentally stop off at Havana long enough to see his "old friend, Ambassador Sumner Welles." And these administration spokesmen went further. They deprecated the idea of intervention and said they hoped it wouldn't have to come.

But if it did, they asserted, Swanson wouldn't be in charge of it.

Second Base.

The unbosoming of President de Cespedes by the rank and file caught the state department flat-footed incidentally. Ambassador Welles had been able to forecast some time in advance every move of the revolutionists up to that point. He failed to clock the coup of the enlisted men.

Assistant Secretary of State Jefferson Caffery, who has charge of Latin-American affairs and is shortly to change jobs with Welles, had a press conference immediately after it broke. Caffery went to great pains to outline what a swell job Welles had done and point out how difficult it would have been to scent in advance the ousting of de Cespedes.

"In other words, Mr. Secretary," suggested a reporter as the conference ended, "Welles hit a home run but forgot to touch second base."

Caffery looked a little puzzled. Apparently he is not a baseball fan.

In any event shortly after they had gotten back to the press from the news men were recalled to his office. Some one must have outlined the rudiments of baseball to the secretary in the interim. He earnestly assured the gentlemen of the press he had not been trying to pan Welles by indirection.

No. He had sought only to extol his colleague.

Tariffs.

The switch in tariff experts for NRA is said by those on the inside to have a protectionist-free trade row back of it.

F. C. Billings was sent back peremptorily to his tariff commission job in New York and replaced by Oscar Ryder, one of the commission experts. The change was made immediately after a huddle between General Hugh Johnson, Chairman E. L. O'Brien and Vice Chairman T. W. Page, of the commission.

When asked for an explanation Johnson is quoted as saying: "He shouldn't have been here in the first place."

Billings is reported to be a protectionist, while Ryder leans more toward the old Democratic idea of free trade possible. Billings was selected originally by Democratic administration John M. Hancock, since resigned.

Organized labor, which wants heavy duties slapped on foreign imports, is looking on with considerable interest.

The man holding this job will have charge of dealing with the claims of consignees. These days they must have tariff experts on embarkoes of their [illegible] with the Blue Eagle.

Shy.

Shipping men are disturbed because General T. Q. Ashburn, president of the inland waterways corporation, failed to show up at a little get-together meeting the other day. The corporation a federal agency, runs large lines in the Mississippi river.

Deputy Administrator William H. Davis, who handled the shipping code for NRA, arranged the party. It was his idea to get government shipping agencies under the code so as to eliminate possible unfair competition. Admiral Hutch I. Cone, who speaks for the U. S. Lines and the now-consolidated shipping board, was present to meet his private competitors but Ashburn was not.

It may be the general remembered the trouble he always has had getting congressional appropriations for his barge lines and decided to stay away from a new controversial subject.

Foresters.

About 125,000 hardy young men between the ages of 18 and 25 are going to have an opportunity to enlist in President Roosevelt's forest army beginning Sept. 30.

That's about the number expected to drop out of C. C. C. camps on expiration of their first six-month term, judging from reports coming in. Uncle Sam isn't going to take any chances on these boys. Their enlistments run out around the last of October. If they stay on until then they'll each have to be issued $50 or $60 worth of winter clothing.

Accordingly the whole 300,000 are going to be mustered out arbitrarily on Sept. 30. Those who want to re-enlist will get heavy clothes. The others will be sent back to conditioning camps to await the end of their enlistments if they so desire.

Nearly 900 of the 1466 camps probably can be maintained all winter. About 575 new camps will break ground in warmer climates.

Notes.

Gus Gennerich, the President's personal bodyguard, used to be a member of the bicycle squad of the New York police back in the days when a speed faster than 12 miles an hour drew a $10 fine... Later Gus graduated to motorcycle work in plain clothes. Lieut. Charles Benter is celebrating the 15th anniversary this year of his organization of the U. S. Navy band... Back in 1918 they gave him four men and then sent him on a recruiting tour to bring it up to the present 80 pieces.

BY JAMES M'MULLIN.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—The latest eruption in Cuba is as different from the traditional Latin-American revolution as scarlet fever is from chicken pox.

This is no good-natured game of politics, hide-and-seek between the ins and outs with a few casualties thrown in to make the game exciting. It cuts deeper than that. There is more than a chance parallel between the Czar-Kerensky-Lenin sequence in Russia and the Machado-Cespedes-Junta sequence in Cuba.

It isn't yet a Communist show but it could easily become one. The rebels are well aware of their golden opportunity. Their best organizers from Mexico and Argentina are on the job. So far their converts are few in numbers but lusty of voice. And the hopeless economic misery of the average Cuban is fertile soil for their seed. Moscow would not object to planting a flourishing colony on our doorstep.

Outlook.

No one on the best informed experts will hazard a guess about the final outcome in Cuba except that there is a lot more chaos in store. It will be nothing short of a miracle if we can duck the necessity for intervention. Anti-American feeling among the masses has been skilfully stirred to a boil and is bound to bust loose in overt action.

There are quite a few Cubans—not among those now on top—who would welcome intervention as the only chance to regain stability. But the students and the army are violently opposed. The students regard it as a point of honor. The army wants to keep its position of power, which it would lose if we stepped in.

And the British sit back and chuckle and wait for the Latin pride harvest to fall in their laps.

Lineup.

But it may not be as simple as that. New Yorkers who know the Latins pay high tribute to the President for his skill in bowing South America in on the party.

It's hard for your neighbor to hold a grudge when you pat him on the back and tell him what a big shot he is. Here's the way the Latin countries will probably line up if it comes to a showdown:

Brazil will be on our side. That's certain. There is better than an even chance that Argentina will line up with us too in spite of the noisy anti-gringo faction which has been carefully fostered by British. The Argentine land owners are in the saddle politically and they are mostly pro-American if only because they hate the British-owned railroads like poison. Moreover Argentine pride has been boosted several notches by the fact that we consulted with her. Uruguay and Paraguay will string along with Argentina. Peru may also join up with this group—not for any love of the United States but because Chile and Bolivia will be on the other side.

Mexico will lead the anvil chorus against Yankee imperialism. She has been longing for just such a chance to assert her Latin leadership against Argentina and will she lap it up! Colombia will have plenty to say too. Chile, Bolivia, Venezuela, Ecuador and the Central American countries will also become hot and bothered.

If the line-up works this way we don't need to be too scared about losing trade to Britain. Argentina is the key. Mexico may threaten a boycott against American goods but it would be virtually impossible to make it work.

Remedy.

Influential New Yorkers will tell you that the best thing we could do for Cuba and ourselves would be to give the Cubans a break on their sugar quota. This is their only chance to get out of the economic swamp. It would be something like taking out fire insurance after the house has burned down but even at this late date it might help to stave off communism.

Britain.

A New Yorker just back from England reports that the British are pleased with recent progress out of the depression. British security financing during August was greater than any August since the war. Of course that included refunding as well as new issues. Opponents of the securities act—who believe that "securities" should grow like leaves on the trees—are making caustic capital out of the contrast with stagnation in industrial financing here. The heavy industries in England seem to be making an excellent come-back.

Russia.

Plenty is brewing under the surface about Russian trade and Russian recognition. A New York group is working on details of a corporation to handle Russian credit problems with the indirect backing of the government. They are almost ready to shoot the works. Big news is likely to develop over night in the near future.

Sidelights.

One American in Cuba flew a big Belgian flag on his automobile. He figured the Cubans wouldn't know what flag it was but at least they would deduce he wasn't a Yankee. The Erie wreck should help NRA. The railroads will be urged to replace wooden cars with steel without waiting for legislation. And is the steel industry's mouth watering! Russian bonds have had a slight pick-up... Some of the boys think they are a good gamble.

There is some indication of a desire to change from President Grau San Martin back to the predecessor, De Cespedes who for a few days succeeded President Machado.

Yesterday from New York, [illegible] duct, at Riverside drive and [illegible] st., a man plunged to death on the pavement of Twelfth avenue, 70 feet below. Mere plunging into dying would attract no attention, but this man was extremely well dressed and wore a diamond ring worth $1,000. To many it will seem strange that a man should kill himself while owning a ring worth $1,000. That measures part of our civilization.

It Was the Bull's Turn

"Time at length makes all things even" according to the poet. Yesterday in the Portuguese village of Sopral, near Lisbon, 10 bulls penned up to be tormented and killed later for the amusement of the crowd broke from their enclosure, plunged into a gaily dressed crowd at the annual Summer festival, injured 20, killed several, damaged shops including china shops.

A local barber, evidently with a career as matador ahead of him, killed one bull with a razor. A sermon could be written about that.

Yesterday 1,000,000 children were at work in New York City's public schools and other millions throughout the nation were returning to the public schools, greatest of all institutions.

Of these millions, perhaps one will be remembered a thousand years hence. To achieve that he must contribute to human happiness, or, like another Napoleon, to human misery, on a big scale.

But that will not discourage any mother, for each will believe that her child will be the one remembered.

Many millions of the children will be useful, constructive, patriotic Americans, and many millions doing their duty are more important to human welfare than any individual standing out in the great crowd.

Hidden Treasure

Working in a restaurant on the Mediterranean, a former colonel of Cossacks knows where $8,000,000 worth of gold and gems are hidden. The treasure was taken to Turkey by a priest of the Russian church and there taken from the priest. It includes English gold coins worth $3,000,000. The tale may be one of those "Spanish treasure" stories so familiar to police, and there may be a real treasure.

In the excitement of revolution and the fear of confiscation, many valuable things were hidden in Russia that will come to light some day, including magnificent works of art, collected by the imperial family for centuries back, and by the Russian grand dukes and nobles.

Where is the Voltaire library that Catherine the Second bought when he died? That would be worth more than the six hundred thousand English sovereigns.

Life Extension

Professor Sherman of Columbia university says a scientific, cleverly balanced diet will enable well human beings to live 10 per cent longer and postpone that abominable period of old age in which men, as a clever Frenchwoman said, "Look on at life," no longer an important part of it.

After the NRA has adjusted all other difficulties, it might turn its attention to cooking. At present the American plan for cooking vegetables boils all the valuable mineral salts out of them. The mineral salts are thrown away with excess water; the vegetables lacking the most precious ingredient, are eaten.

The learned Professor Sherman says keeping old men alive and vigorous in old age is most important, because wisdom that comes with years will thereafter be active, instead of slowly dying away. The new diet will realize Plato's ideal of "an intellectual aristocracy" in which "philosophers will be kings, and kings will be philosophers."

New York To Parade

New York City on Wednesday will have an NRA parade to be remembered. Two hundred thousand will march, headed by soldiers, followed, all on foot, by members of the NRA committees, including editors "in soft hats and dark clothes." The "stovepipe hat" is reserved for funerals. Anyone that wanted to march could, it was accepted there would be a mile long line. The Garment Worker's union alone offered 100,000. Hugh Johnson will review the parade.

Those who consider the Russian experiment entirely a failure will be interested in the following paragraph from a dispatch sent from Moscow by Walter Duranty:

"There is no organized crime in Moscow nor commercialized vice, no racketeering, no kidnapping, no speakeasies, gambling hells or brothels."

All of the things that do not exist in Moscow do exist in our "higher civilization." How do you explain it?

LABORATORY TESTS CHECK EFFICACY OF KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN

Show Why This Delicious Cereal Overcomes Common Constipation

There are scientific reasons for the success of ALL-BRAN in preventing and relieving common constipation. Laboratory investigations show that it supplies "bulk" to exercise the intestines; and vitamin B to promote appetite, and help tone the intestinal tract.

These two important food-elements aid regular habits, and help do away with the headaches, loss of appetite and energy, so often the result of constipation.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is mild in action—much like that of lettuce. Inside the body, it forms a soft mass, which gently clears the intestines of wastes.

Isn't this pleasant "cereal way" far more healthful than using pills and drugs—so often habit-forming!

Just eat two tablespoonfuls of Kellogg's daily—enough for most types of constipation. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Besides, ALL-BRAN brings your body twice as much blood-building iron as an equal amount by weight of beef liver.

Special cooking processes make ALL-BRAN flakes softer, more palatable. Equally tasty as a cereal, or used in cooking. Recipes on the red-and-green package. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

AGED LOCAL WOMAN DIES IN COLUMBUS

Mrs. Lucinda Jane Judd, 74, Passes Away After Illness of Several Months.

Mrs. Lucinda Jane Judd, 74, of 196 North Grand avenue, died late Monday in a Columbus hospital. She had been ill several months. Her condition became serious Wednesday of last week and little hope was held out that she would live until the return of her daughter, Mrs. C. M. Liggett, who was on an extended trip through the West. Mr. and Mrs. Liggett arrived in Columbus Sunday noon.

Mrs. Judd was born near LaRue to Calvin and Nancy Walker Mustain and resided on a farm one and one-half miles east of LaRue until her marriage to William H. Judd, Jan. 1, 1880. Mr. and Mrs. Judd celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Jan. 1, 1930. Mr. Judd died Nov. 23, 1930.

The family lived in LaRue until 1906 when they moved to Marion.

Mrs. Judd was a member of Epworth M. E. church, the Powell Sunday school class and Circle No. 11 of the Ladies' Aid society.

Surviving with the daughter, Mrs. Liggett of 196 North Grand avenue are three brothers, James Mustain of East Orange, Fla., John Mustain of Cadis, Pa., and William Mustain of Oklahoma. A son, Norton Alva, died at the age of five years.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed. The body will be brought to the home Wednesday after which friends may call.

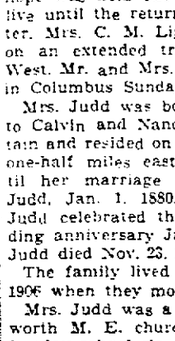
PHIL STONG'S NEW NOVEL THEME OF PALACE PICTURE

The film version of Phil Stong's latest novel, "The Stranger's Return," will be shown at the Palace Wednesday and Thursday. A strong cast headed by Lionel Barrymore, Miriam Hopkins and Franchot Tone brings this story of life on an Iowa farm to the screen.



MIRIAM HOPKINS

In the supporting cast are Stuart Erwin, Irene Hervey, Beulah Bondi, Grant Mitchell, Tad Alexander, the Carevitch of "Rasputin and the Empress," and Aileen Carlyle.

The entire company went on location to make this picture. Unable to go to Iowa, the company moved to 30 acres at Chino, Calif., about 60 miles from the capital. Here a complete farm was erected and stocked. Barrymore plays the role of an 85-year-old farm patriarch. Miss Hopkins is his city granddaughter who returns to the farm after an unhappy romantic affair, only to become involved with Tone, a neighboring farmer.

Employes Leave

Excitement at the hotel ran high when all employes walked out, fearing bodily harm if they continued to serve the officers.

The officers met the contingency themselves by manning the telephone switchboard and elevators.

The food problem was not so easily solved. Wives and friends brought food, but the military guard outside soon put a stop to that. Officers said their food supply would last two days.

Their supplies of ammunition increased ... rapidly during the night. Bars were filled with water to offset any idea of cutting the water mains.

A number of Americans, including Ambassador Summer Welles, were staying at the hostelry.

Meanwhile talk of another revolution was heard.

A high official of the O C R R said his organization and the A B C control the Havana police, numbering about 2,000, which belatedly joined the army movement against De Cespedes.

President Grau San Martin last night announced that all but two posts in his new cabinet had been filled. In giving out his appointments he said "the mediation (that of Mr. Welles between Machado and his opponents) is not represented here."

"We can have nothing to do with men who mediate or make bargains," he added.

MAN AND WIFE GO TO PRISON

Marion Couple, Parents of Two Children, Begin Terms on Theft Charge.

A man and wife were taken to the Columbus workhouse by Marion police today to serve out sentences imposed for thefts allegedly committed by each.

The children of the couple, a boy 11 years old and a girl, nine, are to be cared for by their grandmother during the parents' imprisonment.

The couple are Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Wagner of 502 Bonnett street. Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Wagner pleaded guilty to a petit larceny charge, based on the theft of a pocketbook and was sentenced to 30 days in the workhouse, plus the costs of prosecution.

Several days ago her husband was sentenced to a similar workhouse term plus a $100 fine for alleged stealing silver and cut glass from 18 months ago from the C. A. Chance residence at Owens station five miles south of Marion.

Mrs. Wagner was accused of stealing the pocketbook on Aug. 30 during a visit to the residence of C. R. Young of Sharp street. The pocketbook was said to contain $165 but the change was made public between members of the Warner family had repaid some of the money court officials said.

CONGRESSMAN HITS FARM LOAN SYSTEM

By The Associated Press

CELINA, O., Sept. 12 — Sharp criticism of the federal farm loan system in Ohio was voiced by Congressman Frank L. Kloeb of the Fourth Ohio district in a statement made public here today.

Asserting he had completed a months investigation, Kloeb said he would recommend to Senator Robert J. Bulkley and Henry Morgenthau Jr. the farm credit administrator, that the system be reorganized.

Farmers, said the congressman, have failed to get the relief they expected when the loan act was passed last spring. He charged that appraisers had refused to apply the principle of "normal value" in their appraisals of farm lands on which loans were sought.

Kloeb said complaints were made by farmers in Miami, Allen, Auglaize, Shelby, Mercer and Darke counties as well by Paul L. Sharritt of Troy, vice president of the Ohio Farm Loan association, and S. L. Barnett of Harrod, secretary-treasurer of the Auglaize County Farm Loan association.

Kloeb added that he would invite Senator Bulkley to attend a conference at Lima to be attended by farmers and secretary-treasurers of farm loan associations charged with responsibility in making loans in each county.

Buffalo Recalls Old Days as Marion Man's Kin Dies

The death of John R. Murphy, father of Raymond P. Murphy of 619 North Main street, and a member of the Marion Council No. 671, Knights of Columbus, last week in Buffalo, was the occasion for an interesting feature story in the Buffalo News regarding Mr. Murphy's career of more than a quarter of a century as house detective at the Iroquois hotel at Buffalo.

Mr. Murphy retired from active service in 1926 after two years as house detective at the Statler hotel, but it was in his more than 25 years with the Iroquois hotel that Mr. Murphy became known to the business and political leaders of the earlier decades.

The Iroquois, according to the story, was frequented by theatrical stars, business and political leaders, the city's sports and men-about-town, and "in the quiet of the anteroom corner in the lobby, many a political stratagem was conceived."

The article praised Mr. Murphy as a "man of tact," "with a camera-eye and a long memory."

"When the Iroquois at Main and Eagle streets was in its heyday, Mr. Murphy was as familiar to the clientele as were the deep leather lounges and potted palms of the lobby of the dapper Major P[illegible] chief clerk behind the desk," the story stated.

"Mr. Murphy knew all of the questers whether or not they were resident regulars. It was his business to see that all were well and to keep a watchful eye for promising sucker for big mitt men who might try to change the unwary in phoney poker games for which Buffalo was famous. He was ever ready to warn strangers who might be anxious to discuss with trusting guests details of plans for tapping wires to get private information on horseraces or for negotiating the sale of the Brooklyn Bridge. It was no easy job.

"Lillian Russell, DeWolfe Hopper, Raymond Hitchcock, John Drew were among the famous theatrical stars who always made the Iroquois their headquarters in Buffalo and naturally came to know Mr. Murphy. Sometimes Victor Herbert, the operetta composer and bon vivant might drop into town to see his old friend, John Lund.

"On those occasions a bottle of champagne would be sure to be in order. Mr. Murphy would be invited to have a sip on behalf of the management."

Mr. Murphy was well known in Marion. He came here many times to visit his son and gained a wide circle of friends through his membership in the Knights of Columbus council here.

Vicious Attack Gives Martino Angelo Victory Over McNaught at Shovel Gym

Martino Angelo, that 167-pound chunk of Sicilian fury, was virtually a madman at the Steam Shovel gym last night when he defeated Scotty McNaught of Hamilton Ont., in the main event of the wrestling program

Although rather reticent about the matter Angelo apparently was peeved at the world At least that was the concensus of the fans who saw Angelo put on his roughest and most vicious performance of his career in the local ring. Always ready to take advantage of his opponent, he outdid himself last night

It was a toss-up as to who was victorious Both men were out when the final fall was scored but Angelo was able to crawl over on his opponent and, of course, won the match It required the combined force of Patrolman Bert Powell, Promoter Clete Kauffman and Referee Ed Beardsley to break the two men After losing the fall, McNaught still dazed insisted on continuing—first wrestling Angelo and then the referee.

The final fall came after 12 minutes when Angelo reversed a series of butts The two men crashed headon and fell to the canvas. Angelo the tougher of the two recovered first and won the deciding fall

McNaught was greatly weakened as a result of the punishing holds put on him in the second fall, won by Angelo in 11 minutes. McNaught was kept tied up in a hammerlock for fully five minutes and the arm was practically useless He gave up when Angelo applied a bow and arrow hold

The Canadian was master of the first fall, however, despite the rough tactics used by Angelo He won the fall in 26 minutes using his famous off-the-rope butts. His hip locks and leg drops were working perfectly in this fall.

When Johnny Stott, the Schenectady youngster, gets mad it's just too bad. He was that way when he defeated Billy Spenlove of Vancouver, British Columbia, in the semi-final bout Spenlove was a little too rough for Stott's liking but he managed to skip around until the time was right to act and then he did

He won the first fall in nine minutes with a series of hip throws and then took the second in 14 with a series of crotch slams The final fall came after Spenlove got a little too rough and protested to the referee for stopping him The protests got so heated that Spenlove and the referee exchanged blows. Stott threw the referee to one side and began slamming the Canadian all over the mat. This was too much for Spenlove and the match was over

In the preliminary Ham Hamilton of Marion and Lefty Pacer of Tulsa Okla., wrestled 20 minutes to a draw.

Northwestern Faces Tough Schedule with Green Team

By The Associated Press

EVANSTON Ill Sept 12 Will lose or draw Coach Dick Hanley sits on top of the college football world

He's the idol of Northwestern and if he doesn't deliver a Big Ten championship or if his team has a miserable season, the Wildcats along Chicago's northshore are convinced no one could have done better

Since Dick has been at the coaching helm even the famous drug store coaches of yesterday have joined the cheering section

Northwestern's coach is in a great spot this fall His team is green, composed mostly of sophomores the students don't expect too much, and the possibilities are that the Northwestern team will be the big stumbling blocks of the Big Ten football championship race

A survey of the line indicates the Wildcats will have a heavier and faster but far less experienced forward wall than in 1932 Bill Riley and Joe Chambers, a pair of 215 pounders will be at the tackle positions two important posts in Hanley's scheme of offense. Other regulars along the front line will be Al Kawal, and Edgar Manske, end All other posts must be filled by new men Ollie Olson one of the best kickers to boot the pig skin in Big Ten warfare will return to the fullback post with Jakie Sullivan, at halfback The rest of the backfield must be recruited from a large group of sophomores

In addition to battles against Notre Dame and Stanford, Northwestern will meet six Big Ten foes, all of them at Evanston except Ohio State The campaign is probably the hardest ever undertaken under the Hanley regime. The schedule

Sept 30—Iowa at Soldier Field (Chicago)
Oct 14—Stanford at Soldier Field
Oct 21—Indiana at Evanston
Oct 28—Ohio State at Columbus
Nov 4—Minnesota at Evanston
Nov 11—Illinois at Evanston
Nov 18—Notre Dame at Evanston
Nov 25—Michigan at Evanston

Practice Under Way for Ohio College Teams

By The Associated Press

Brawn and brains were drawn into the mobilization of the football camps of dozens of Ohio colleges today as hundreds of husky linemen, fleet ends and triple threat backfield candidates answered the call to the football wars of 1933

Coaches who summoned their men to the first practice sessions yesterday began the weeks of drill it will take to whip their teams into shape for the moment when the gates of the stadiums open for the "big games" of the season

The eyes of the wary grid mentors were looking for centers guards, and tackles, for ends, and of course, for ball-carriers.

A new college is preparing to fly its colors over Ohio gridirons this fall At Lebanon, Coach Wendel E Beattie, formerly of Morris Harvey college at Barboursville W Va., found 19 candidates ready to play for the newly founded Arthur Holbrook college He ordered a night workout in preparation for the first game, with Ashland, Sept 22

At Kent State a new coach took charge of the two-hour drill of the Golden Flashes He is Joe W Begala, whose appointment was announced today.

Seventeen letter men were among the 50 hopefuls at the University of Cincinnati for the initial workout Also at Cincinnati, Xavier university's coach, Joe Meyer, found 14 letter men among his 35 candidates

Marietta college launched a practice schedule of two workouts a day with 20 men out of a squad of 48. Harry Barber of Buffalo, an all-Buckeye tackle of two years ago, was among the nearly 50 men who will try to make the squad at Ohio Wesleyan.

At Cleveland the Western Reserve Red Cats learned that Barron Keady son of Coach Tom Keady, could not enroll this semester. He was an important part of the Reserve attack last year Four full teams worked under the guidance of Coach Ray Ride at Case, and Coach Ralph Vince of John Carroll put 30 men through a drill which included punting and passing

Coach Stobbs at Springfield started a hunt for a new center and two guards for this Wittenberg team He has a 18 letter men available

Ashland college also had drills opening today Mount Union started off with 26 candidates 10 still being expected to report Only 15 candidates reported to Coach Bill Behnlohr at Capital university in Columbus, but a dozen more are expected

Denison university, in the Ohio conference this year after withdrawing from the Buckeye, started practice with 30 men

Two drills were held at Wooster, with 40 candidates, including 15 lettermen

At Oberlin Coach Lysle Butler looked forward to a start next Friday, delayed because of an agreement with Rochester university. Oberlin's first opponent gridders are getting the proper supervision and are looking forward to a successful season. One member said that no team can go through a season successfully if injuries through improper equipment keeps the lineup weakened.

Returning to the subject of recreation ball, Saturday's contest will bring together two of the outstanding teams in this section of the state With Dale Schwaderer on the bound the local team represents one of the strongest diamond combines ever assembled here.

Mansfield's nine is made up of the stellar performers of that city's soft ball league. They are considered worthy opponents for Marion's heavy hitters in view of the fact they defeated the locals 3 to 0 in a night game at Mansfield earlier in the season.

The game will start at 3 p m.

Working like pliers, a tool has been invented for removing storage battery terminals, exerting a straight upward pull that cannot strain the posts

ROSS IS CONFIDENT ON EVE OF BATTLE

NEW YORK, Sept 12—Barney Ross' forty-ninth professional fight won him the lightweight championship His fiftieth takes him into the ring at the Polo Grounds tonight for a 15-round defense of the crown against the veteran he dethroned, Tony Canoneri of New York

Ross thus disregards all the traditions of the game not only by putting his title in jeopardy so soon but by giving Canzoneri the first whack at it.

MARCUM IS ANSWER TO CONNIE MACK'S PITCHING PROBLEM

Former Louisville Star Turns Second Major League Start Into Shutout.

By The Associated Press

Connie Mack's problem of finding a right hand pitcher to fit into the mound staff he is building for 1934 apparently has been solved by Johnny Marcum from Louisville of the American association

While the New York Giants were strengthening their lead in the National league and the Washington Senators were adding to their advantage in the American circuit yesterday Marcum making his second major league start pitched his second shutout as Philadelphia trimmed the White Sox twice.

After Lefty Grove turned in his twenty-first victory of the season with a 5 to 3 decision over Ted Lyons in the first game Johnny Marcum ran his string of scoreless innings with an 8 to 0 triumph

The double victory boosted the Athletics into third place one-half game in front of the Tigers who were the victims of Monte Weaver's effective pitching at Washington, the Senators winning 5 to 1

Coupled with the Tigers' 5 to 1 decision over the New York Yankees, the Senators closed their lead over the world champions to nine and one-half games They need only eight victories in their remaining 16 games to clinch the pennant even if the Yanks win all of their remaining 18 contests

In the National league the Giants, with their nearest rivals, the Cubs and Pirates, rained out, increased their lead over Chicago to eight games and over Pittsburgh to eight and one-half by beating the lowly Cincinnati Reds 3 to 1 It was the Giants' fifth straight victory.

Again Manager Bill Terry called his ace of aces Carl Hubbell, to save the game

It was the second time in as many days Hubbell had been shoved into the breach It also was the forty-fourth game in which he had taken part He now has pitched 285 1-3 innings more than 31 full games and fanned 146 batsmen

The Boston Braves retained their mathematical chance of winning the National league pennant by beating the Cardinals, 3 to 0

COLUMBUS IS READY FOR FIRST GAME OF ASSOCIATION SERIES

Followers of Red Birds Confident That Team Will Win Championship.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Sept 12 After more than a quarter century of waiting the Columbus baseball team saw an American Association pennant within its grasp today

Having finished the season in first place the Red Birds were strong favorites at least with local fans to win the seven game title series opening here this afternoon with the Minneapolis Millers

After two more games at night tomorrow and Thursday—the teams will go to Minneapolis to battle on until one of them wins four games The Millers won the championship last year

Victory would give Columbus its first pennant since 1907 In former years the title went to the team that topped the league at the close of the regular season The play off this year was decreed by the A A moguls who divided the league into two sections eastern and western

A crowd of 10,000 was expected to see the opening game of the series The pitching selections were Jess Petty southpaw ace for Minneapolis and Big Bill Lee youthful right hander for the Red Birds.

The winner of the association series will meet the International league champions in the "little world series"

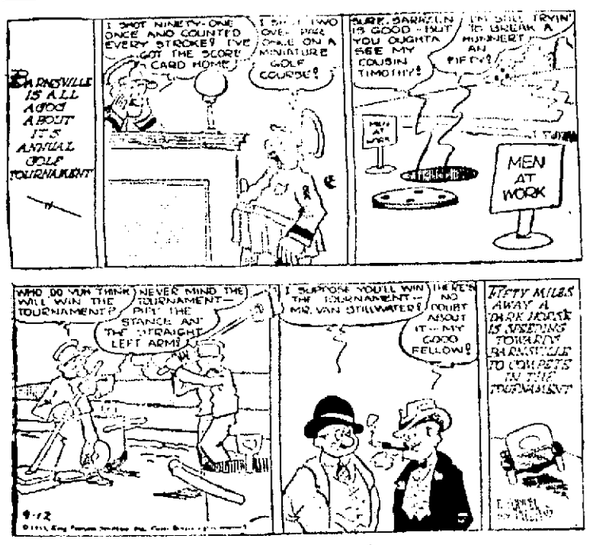
JUST KIDS — BY AD CARTER



BANGVILLE IS ALL AGOG ABOUT ITS ANNUAL GOLF TOURNAMENT
I SHOT NINETY-ONE ONCE AND COUNTED EVERY STROKE! I'VE GOT THE SCORE CARD HOME.
I SHOT TWO OVER PAR ONCE ON A MINIATURE GOLF COURSE!
SURE, DARRELYN IS GOOD - BUT YOU OUGHTA SEE MY COUSIN TIMOTHY!
HE'S AT BAT
STRIKE-HIT
MEN AT WORK
WHO DO YOU THINK WILL WIN THE TOURNAMENT?
NEVER MIND THE TOURNAMENT — PUT THE STARCH IN THE STRAIGHT LEFT ARM!
I SUPPOSE YOU'LL WIN THE TOURNAMENT — MR. VAN STILWATER!
I'D RATHER NOT DISCUSS IT — MY GOOD FELLOW!
FIFTY MILES AWAY A DARK HORSE IS SWEEPING TOWARD SHANTILLE TO COUNTER'S IN THE TOURNAMENT

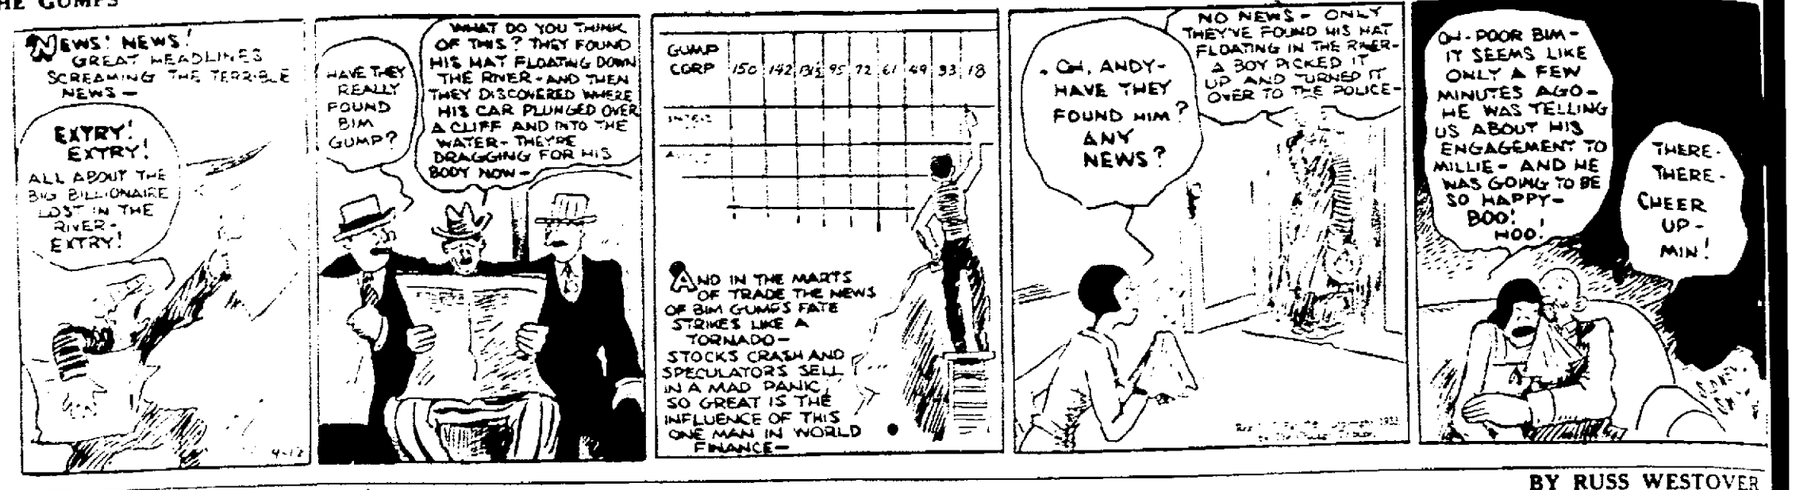
THE GUMPS — BY SIDNEY SMITH



NEWS! NEWS! GREAT HEADLINES SCREAMING THE TERRIBLE NEWS—
EXTRY! EXTRY! ALL ABOUT THE BIG BILLIONAIRE LOST IN THE RIVER - EXTRY!
HAVE THEY REALLY FOUND BIM GUMP?
WHAT DO YOU THINK OF THIS? THEY FOUND HIS HAT FLOATING DOWN THE RIVER - AND THEN THEY DISCOVERED WHERE HIS CAR PLUNGED OVER A CLIFF AND INTO THE WATER - THEY'RE DRAGGING FOR HIS BODY NOW -
GUMP CORP 150 142 131/2 95 72 61 49 93 18
AND IN THE MARTS OF TRADE THE NEWS OF BIM GUMP'S FATE STRIKES LIKE A TORNADO - STOCKS CRASH AND SPECULATORS SELL IN A MAD PANIC, SO GREAT IS THE INFLUENCE OF THIS ONE MAN IN WORLD FINANCE - OH, ANDY - HAVE THEY FOUND HIM? ANY NEWS?
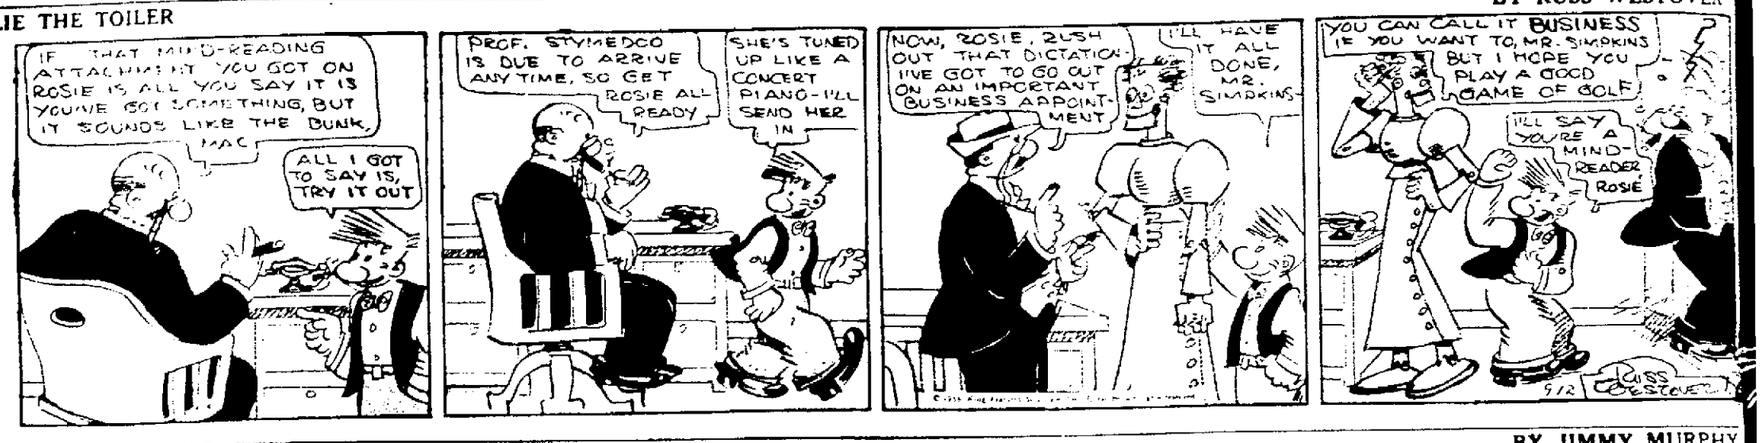
NO NEWS - ONLY THEY'VE FOUND HIS HAT FLOATING IN THE RIVER - A BOY PICKED IT UP AND TURNED IT OVER TO THE POLICE -
OH - POOR BIM - IT SEEMS LIKE ONLY A FEW MINUTES AGO - HE WAS TELLING US ABOUT HIS ENGAGEMENT TO MILLIE - AND HE WAS GOING TO BE SO HAPPY - BOO! HOO!
THERE - THERE - CHEER UP - MIN!

TILLIE THE TOILER — BY RUSS WESTOVER



IF THAT MIND-READING ATTACHMENT YOU GOT ON ROSIE IS ALL YOU SAY IT IS YOU'VE GOT SOMETHING, BUT IT SOUNDS LIKE THE BUNK, MAC
ALL I GOT TO SAY IS, TRY IT OUT
PROF. STYMEDCO IS DUE TO ARRIVE ANY TIME, SO GET ROSIE ALL READY
SHE'S TUNED UP LIKE A CONCERT PIANO - I'LL SEND HER IN NOW, ROSIE, RUSH OUT THAT DICTATION - I'VE GOT TO GO OUT ON AN IMPORTANT BUSINESS APPOINTMENT
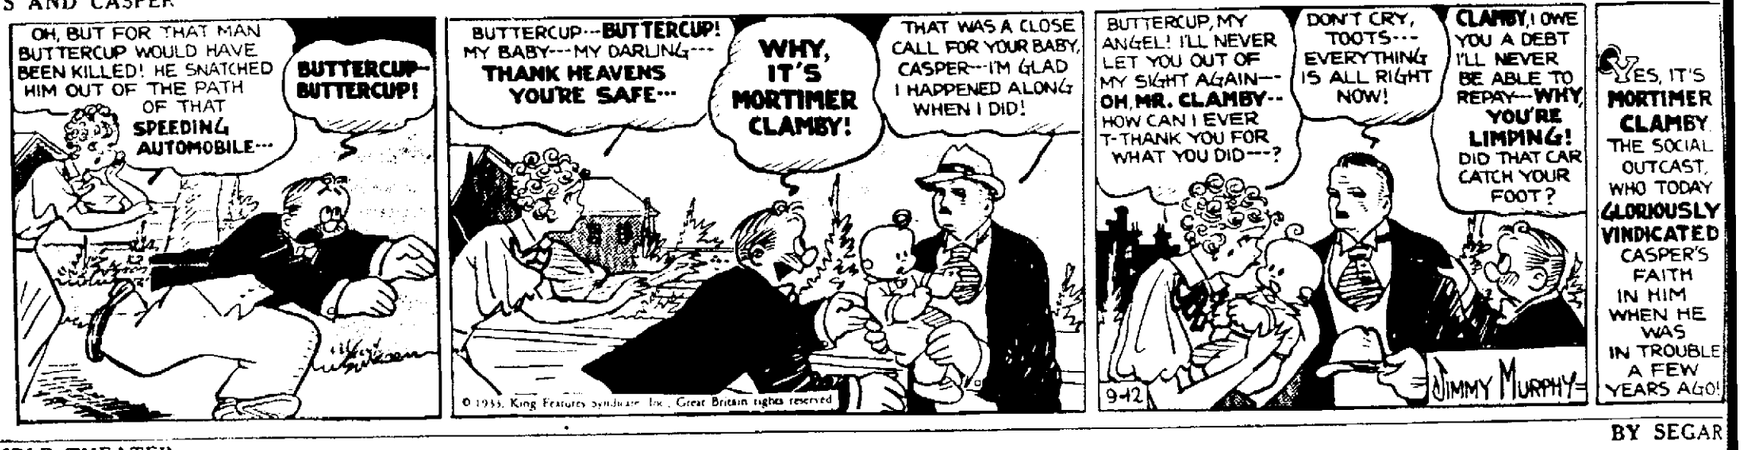
I'LL HAVE IT ALL DONE, MR. SIMPKINS
YOU CAN CALL IT BUSINESS IF YOU WANT TO, MR. SIMPKINS BUT I HOPE YOU PLAY A GOOD GAME OF GOLF
I'LL SAY YOU'RE A MIND-READER ROSIE

TOOTS AND CASPER — BY JIMMY MURPHY



OH, BUT FOR THAT MAN BUTTERCUP WOULD HAVE BEEN KILLED! HE SNATCHED HIM OUT OF THE PATH OF THAT SPEEDING AUTOMOBILE...
BUTTERCUP - BUTTERCUP!
BUTTERCUP---BUTTERCUP! MY BABY---MY DARLING--- THANK HEAVENS YOU'RE SAFE...
WHY, IT'S MORTIMER CLAMBY!
THAT WAS A CLOSE CALL FOR YOUR BABY, CASPER---I'M GLAD I HAPPENED ALONG WHEN I DID!
© 1933, King Features Syndicate, Inc., Great Britain rights reserved.
BUTTERCUP, MY ANGEL! I'LL NEVER LET YOU OUT OF MY SIGHT AGAIN--- OH, MR. CLAMBY-- HOW CAN I EVER T-THANK YOU FOR WHAT YOU DID---?
DON'T CRY, TOOTS--- EVERYTHING IS ALL RIGHT NOW!
CLAMBY, I OWE YOU A DEBT I'LL NEVER BE ABLE TO REPAY--- WHY, YOU'RE LIMPING! DID THAT CAR CATCH YOUR FOOT?

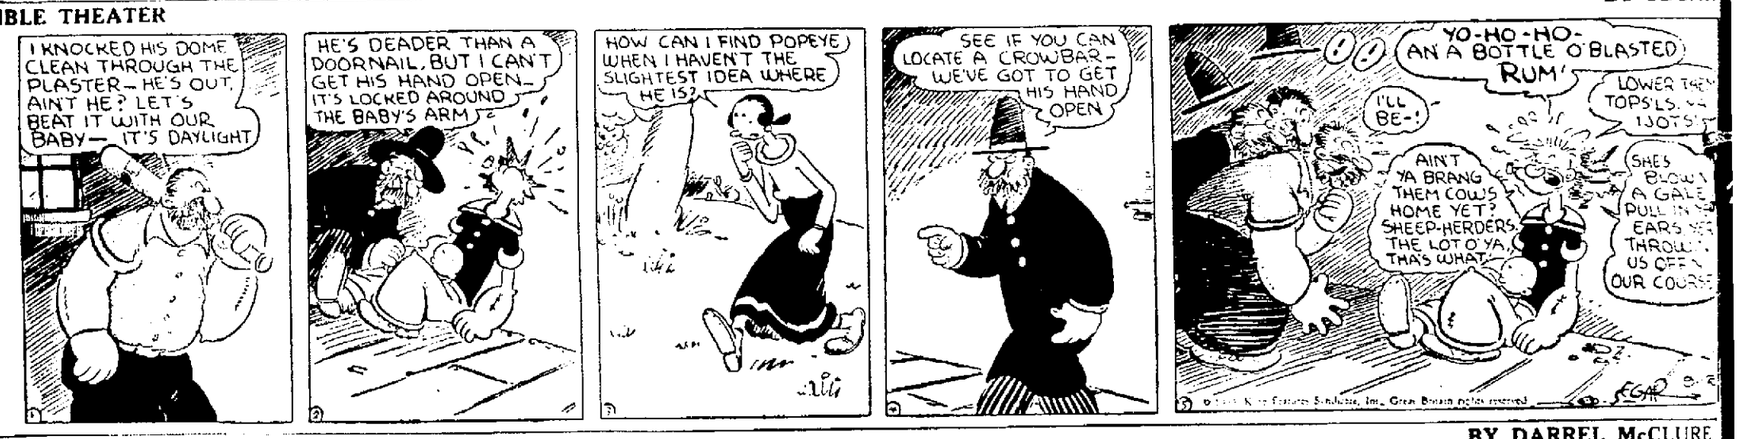
YES, IT'S MORTIMER CLAMBY THE SOCIAL OUTCAST, WHO TODAY GLORIOUSLY VINDICATED CASPER'S FAITH IN HIM WHEN HE WAS IN TROUBLE A FEW YEARS AGO!

THIMBLE THEATER — BY SEGAR



I KNOCKED HIS DOME CLEAN THROUGH THE PLASTER - HE'S OUT, AIN'T HE? LET'S BEAT IT WITH OUR BABY - IT'S DAYLIGHT
HE'S DEADER THAN A DOORNAIL, BUT I CAN'T GET HIS HAND OPEN - IT'S LOCKED AROUND THE BABY'S ARM
HOW CAN I FIND POPEYE WHEN I HAVEN'T THE SLIGHTEST IDEA WHERE HE IS?
SEE IF YOU CAN LOCATE A CROWBAR - WE'VE GOT TO GET HIS HAND OPEN
YO-HO-HO- AN A BOTTLE O' BLASTED RUM!
I'LL BE-!
LOWER THEM TOPSLS, YA LOOTS!
AIN'T YA BRANG THEM COWS HOME YET? SHEEP-HERDERS, THE LOT O' YA, THA'S WHAT!

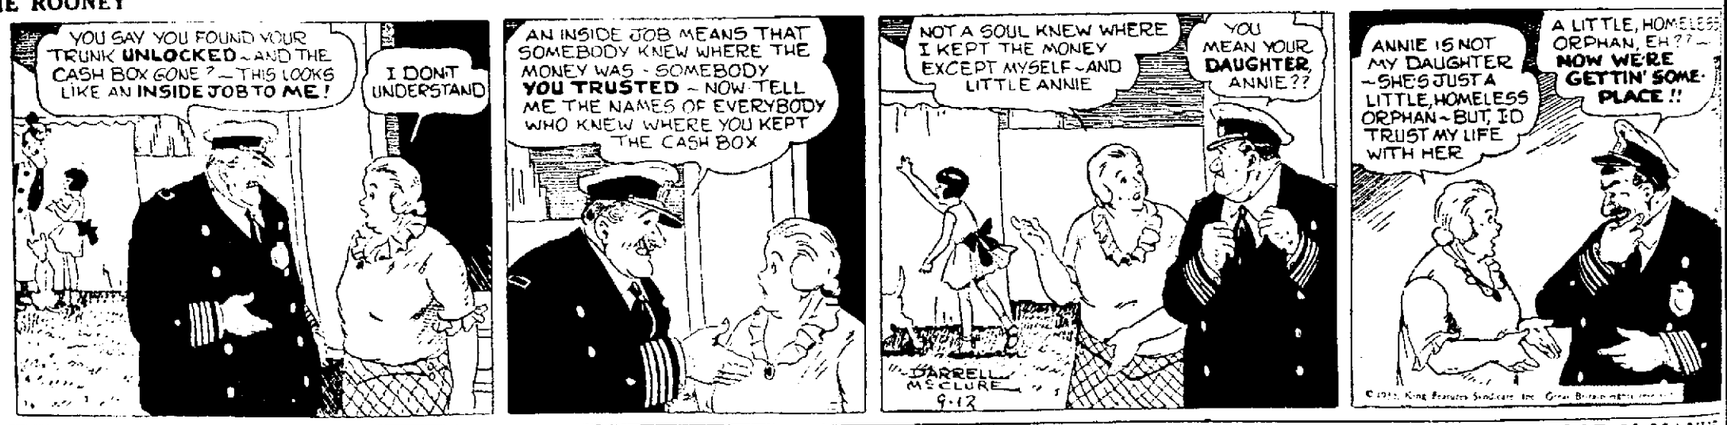
ANNIE ROONEY — BY DARREL McCLURE



YOU SAY YOU FOUND YOUR TRUNK UNLOCKED - AND THE CASH BOX GONE? - THIS LOOKS LIKE AN INSIDE JOB TO ME!
I DON'T UNDERSTAND
AN INSIDE JOB MEANS THAT SOMEBODY KNEW WHERE THE MONEY WAS - SOMEBODY YOU TRUSTED - NOW TELL ME THE NAMES OF EVERYBODY WHO KNEW WHERE YOU KEPT THE CASH BOX
NOT A SOUL KNEW WHERE I KEPT THE MONEY EXCEPT MYSELF - AND LITTLE ANNIE YOU MEAN YOUR DAUGHTER, ANNIE??
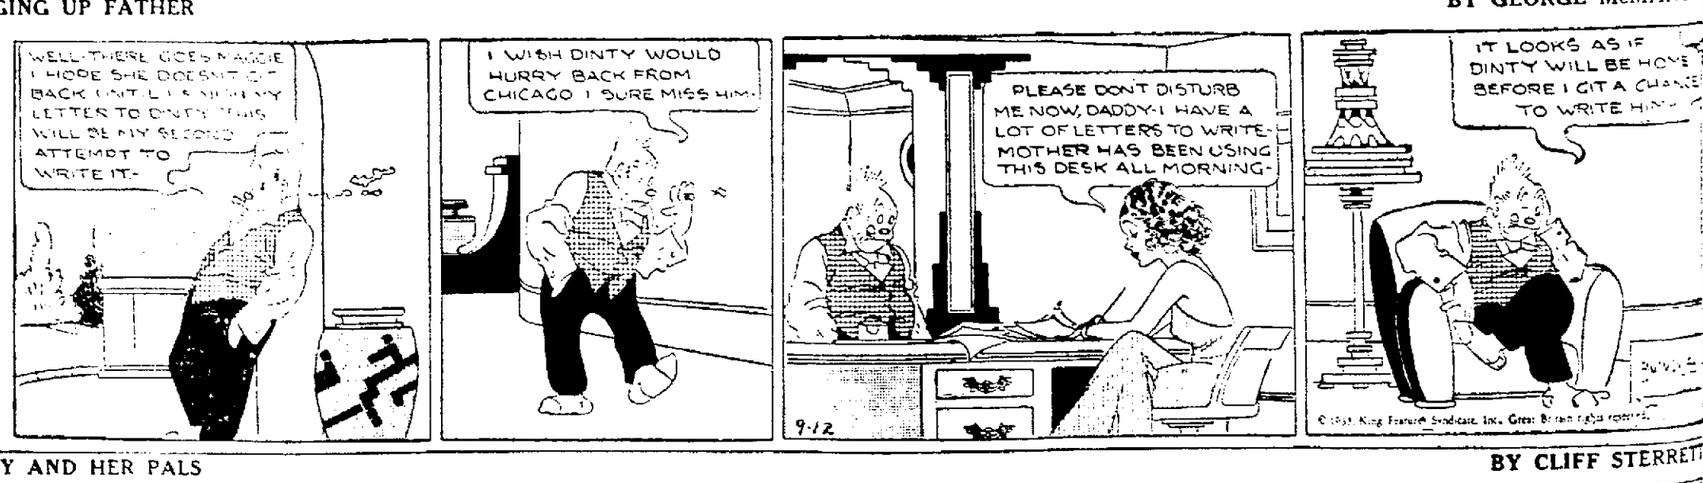
DARRELL McCLURE 9-12
ANNIE IS NOT MY DAUGHTER - SHE'S JUST A LITTLE, HOMELESS ORPHAN - BUT, I'D TRUST MY LIFE WITH HER
A LITTLE, HOMELESS ORPHAN, EH?? - NOW WE'RE GETTIN' SOME-PLACE!!

BRINGING UP FATHER — BY GEORGE McMANUS



WELL, THERE GOES MAGGIE I HOPE SHE DOESN'T GET BACK UNTIL I FINISH MY LETTER TO DINTY. THIS WILL BE MY SECOND ATTEMPT TO WRITE IT.
I WISH DINTY WOULD HURRY BACK FROM CHICAGO I SURE MISS HIM.
PLEASE DON'T DISTURB ME NOW, DADDY - I HAVE A LOT OF LETTERS TO WRITE - MOTHER HAS BEEN USING THIS DESK ALL MORNING -
9-12
IT LOOKS AS IF DINTY WILL BE HOME BEFORE I GIT A CHANCE TO WRITE HIM!

DRUGS AND SUNDRIES

ANNOUNCEMENT
OF OUR NEW REMEDY

For thirty-two years I have tried diligently like many other Chemists to find a satisfactory elimination of bodily poisons, (AUTO INTOXICATION) fully appreciative what a blessing it would mean to the average sick person.

I have seen some fairly successful products fail because as time goes on people expect progress and insist on more improvement. Today I feel we have achieved the new purpose. Our new product HEPATIC TRITICUM has and is giving results far beyond our fondest expectations. Numerous chronic ailments of all kinds heretofore unyielding show marked improvements after the system is cleansed of poisons.

I have always been very careful to confine myself to absolute truthful statements, and wish to state, don't be surprised of hearing of recoveries heretofore considered hopeless by this product HEPATIC TRITICUM. Nearly all chronic diseases today are more or less traceable to AUTO INTOXICATION (self poisoning) and in all cases where the source of the trouble is removed, we can expect miracles from MOTHER NATURE.

Today practically every one has, to some degree, a mild or bad form of AUTO INTOXICATION. HEPATIC TRITICUM can be used by any one to obtain better health as it contains no drastic drug. Users of HEPATIC TRITICUM become more healthy, kidneys and liver are improved and as elimination goes on IT will aid nature to surmount obstacles of bad health which heretofore seemed to be impossible.

I am personally making an appeal to sufferers of all chronic ailments to try as an auxiliary aid HEPATIC TRITICUM for cleansing effect. Never in all the experience of a druggist or chemist have I known a more remarkable remedy.

Respectfully,
C. LOWER, Chemist,
Cor. Center-Main, Marion, O.

MARKET TONE IS CHEERFUL

Stocks Move Briskly, Although Yesterday's Speculative Arbor Cools Off.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Sept. 12. Traders in the financial markets were cheerful but cautious today and the speculative ardor of yesterday apparently had cooled perceptibly overnight.

Stocks moved quite briskly at the start in the wake of the previous sharp rally. Profit taking in the alcohols and other buoyant gainers of Monday soon sobered the list and the ticker tape dropped back to a featureless jog. While some early gains were cancelled, there was no especial pressure on any group and a fairly steady tone was maintained. Grains, cotton and other commodities held to a rather narrow groove. The dollar was heavy in foreign exchange dealings, sterling getting up around 4 cents at one time and European gold currencies recovering substantially.

The oils probably made the best showing of the more active shares. Amerada got up about 2 points, and Atlantic Refining, Seaboard, Ohio, Houston and Standard of New Jersey advanced fractionally to around a point. Small gains were shown by American Telephone, General Motors, International Harvester, DuPont, National Biscuit, Kelvinator and Woolworth. Chrysler crossed 50 for another new year's high, but later recorded a minor loss. Santa Fe and Pennsylvania were firm. Losers of a point or more included Johns-Manville, U. S. Smelting, U. S. Industrial Alcohol and Columbian carbon.

While hopes or fears of the inflationary needle continued as important factors in the movement of the general stock list, most market observers were watching closely the trends of business and industry and their reflections of the national recovery program.

Followers of rail equities were highly encouraged by the progress of freight car loadings, which have exceeded the expectation of the more optimistic.

Not only is the carrier situation viewed as promising, and as a reliable indicator of basic progress, but improved sentiment in the oil industry has brought hopes of a return of prosperity to this sector. Leading petroleum companies, it is pointed out, can show substantial profits with crude around $1 a barrel.

PRINCIPAL OF CITY SCHOOL QUITS POST

Miss Grace Cunningham Retires; Miss Gregg Takes Place.

Resignation of Miss Grace Cunningham as principal of the North Main street school was accepted last night by the city board of education at its monthly meeting, by the office of Superintendent George A. Bowman.

The resignation was effective as of yesterday and Miss Cunningham's place has been taken by Miss Philomen Gregg, seventh and eighth grade teacher at the Edison Junior High school.

Miss Cunningham was eligible for retirement on pension which was given as the reason for her resignation She had been principal of the North Main street building for four years after previous teaching service in Marion and Lakewood, O., schools.

The board hired W. H. Baker, janitor at the North State street building until it was closed, as a janitor subject to assignment at any building in the city as a helper. In addition to helping out at the various buildings, Baker will have charge of the Central Junior High school building at night for meetings, plays and other activities.

The pay schedule for janitor helpers was reduced by the board at a saving of approximately $800 a year. The helpers pay previously is now $15 a month at each building, where this help previously was allowed, except at two buildings which have a schedule of $5 and $10 a month, respectively.
